

The

Trolls

Tale

Damian Lacombe

Read that darn prologue first!
That will be just as good as Don Quixote.
Which will no doubt turn into a great collage characters from films and literature.
from DreamWorks Trolls, and other
Adventures featuring characters
The Humorous and Stupidous

In dedication to my idols (especially God, the one who gave me joy), including the late comedian Robin Williams (who played the Genie in Aladdin), who had died of suicide, and YouTube user “Angry Grandpa” – Charles Green, who died in December 12th, 2017, and Miguel de Cervantes, the original author of Don Quixote, I hope he smiles on this work, just like what he did with his Quixote.

Text copyright © 2018 Damian Lacombe; All rights reserved.

Note: For this book I made, I used the New Living Translation of the Holy Bible, along with my imagination to make it funny and interesting (including the cultural references of literature, film, and other media), just like Don Quixote.

DreamWorks Trolls is owned by DreamWorks Animation and Universal Pictures, a division of NBCUniversal.

No part of this book may be used or reproduced in any manner whatsoever with written permission except in the case of brief quotations embodied in critical articles and reviews.

10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1

PRINTED IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Contents – Sneak preview

Prologue	5
-----------------------	---

FIRST PART OF THE ADVENTURES OF TROLLESIS IN WHICH IT WAS ACCOUNTED BY TROLLS AND TARZAN

CHAPTER I	8
In which Peppy, a troll king, created and formed his world, and trolls in his perfectly-grateful image
CHAPTER II	11
In which Peppy meets Creek and warned him not to eat the forbidden fruit
CHAPTER III	12
In which Creek and Hermione both sin by eating the forbidden fruit, thanks to that stupidendously stupid serpent
CHAPTER IV	15
In which Hermione bore Cooper and Biggie, brought music to the village, and slashed that twat serpent with the Sword of Poppy
CHAPTER V	19
In which the genealogy of Creek is revealed for the first time in the histories of the trolls
CHAPTER VI	21
In which Peppy planned to flood his world, and encouraged Branch to build an ark for everyone
CHAPTER VII	23

In which Peppy unleashed the flood to his world, after Branch places all (including his friends) into the ark

CHAPTER VIII 26

In which the floodwaters stopped, and Branch's ark lands on the tip of the mountain of Azkaban

SECOND PART OF THE ADVENTURES OF TROLLESIS

CHAPTER IX 28

In which Peppy gave an immortal blessing to Branch, and other events worthwhile reading

CHAPTER X 31

In which the genealogy of Branch is also revealed for the first time, just like Creek's

CHAPTER XI 33

In which Tarzan and his gorilla mother has a sleepover with the Snack Pack, and the tale of Tarzan, on how he became the ape man of the forest

CHAPTER XII 36

In which Tarzan was brought to the waterfall by Branch to do the elephant hair dare, and other stupendous events worth remembering

CHAPTER XIII..... 39

In which Branch became friends with Phil, a gorilla, and Peppy told him to save all the sinful trolls at Cocola in this amazing event

CHAPTER XIV..... 41

In which Tarzan and the Snack Pack saves all the sinful trolls in Cocola, while Branch battles with Frolo to save his friend, which will become the most stupendously amazing adventure ever

THIRD PART OF THE ADVENTURES OF TROLLESIS

CHAPTER XV 44

In which Tarzan fights with the leopard that killed his parents in this incredible adventure worth reading

CHAPTER XVI 48

In which Cho, a gorilla maid to Ray Charles, gave birth to a gorilla baby, and a stork gave her some funny advice in this stupendous event

CHAPTER XVII 50

In which Branch gave himself a new nickname, while talking to Peppy in this amusing conversation

CHAPTER XVIII 53

In which Tarzan and the Snack Pack saw other humans, then saves Jane from a pack a baboons in this crazy adventure

CHAPTER XIX 58

In which the stupendously amusing talk to Peppy from Branch happens after Tarzan's heroic rescue of Jane from the barbarous baboons

CHAPTER XX 61

In which Phil, Michael, and Bridgette attacked against the wickedness at the Ministry of Troll Magic, and other events worthy of remembering

CHAPTER XXI 66

In which the gorilla crew, Peppy, and Branch visits the camping site and started to have crazy fun

CHAPTER XXII 70

In which Branch and Peppy did great things, then two trolls and Tarzan came to see Jane and the crew in this outstanding event worthwhile reading

CHAPTER XXIII..... 75

In which while Peppy and Branch had a comical conversation, they met the ingenious gentleman Don Quixote of La Mancha and his squire Sancho Panza

CHAPTER XXIV.....81

In which Tarzan wanted Jane to stay in the jungle, while the crew was packing up in order to get back to England, then he lured Kerchak out of the jungle by disguising Terk and Tantor as Jane and Porter, then he fights with Kerchak, and the other unexpected event that prevails almost at the end of this chapter

CHAPTER XXV 87

In which Kala tells the tale of The Little Red Riding Dude to Tarzan, who was deceived by Kerchak, and other unexpected events

CHAPTER XXVI 92

In which the story of The Red Riding Dude concludes, Tarzan dresses up in his dead parents' clothes, then gets kidnapped by barbarous men in this spectacular adventure ever written

CHAPTER XXVI 95

In which Branch and Phil discovered greasers in the city of Hogdwellium, which one of them are called "Ponyboy", and other delightful events worth reading

Prologue

IDLE Reader, if you are a Christian, then you knew about the Bible for pretty long. You also probably know that it's also a collection of stories, from the creation to the resurrection of Jesus. Well, what happens if you take the Bible, and twist it around a lot, in which you add a lot of references to media, boil up some humor, and add great adventures to these pages of the book you are holding right now...

I am, despite being a father to Peppy, a troll king; I do not tolerate myself to being sued by many people or creators who originally created characters and franchises, precisely Don Quixote (whom the author of his died a year after the second part of his Quixote was released to the general public, initially in Spain). I would, sometimes, put a blindfold on Branch, so he could see some ironings, craziness nonsense, and sometimes, not-so-noble lesions that are visible in front of his eyes.

And yes, you know what I'm doing; I am doing this prologue in the style of Cervantes's prologue in the first part of Don Quixote. It is interesting too, because I recently have my own copy of the standalone 1st part, hardcover from The Harvard Classics (which was the 1612 Thomas Shelton translation), given as a gift for free at the bookstore in Alexandria, so it made me think that Don Quixote is very funny indeed. The first part, which I am reading from Edith Grossman's translation, since I am at Chapter 21, it is very funny.

It was more of a parody of chivalric books that Spanish people were making at the time that Cervantes was creating his great masterpiece, while in jail. Yeah, you will find it funny for that fact, but how did he get to jail? He might had something to do with tax fraud, so he eventually ended up in jail for a couple of years, and that is where he wrote the ingenious gentleman (or hidalgo, if you read the original or Tom Lathrop's translation) Don Quixote of La Mancha (or The Mancha, as what Thomas Shelton called it), along with his faithful squire Sancho Panza (which means "belly", as far as I know, in Spanish).

Now, what about me? Well, I am writing this prologue to precede these funny, comical, and creative adventures based and partly abridged on the Bible. Unlike the bible though, even though I am writing this for interesting reasons, I am adding more scenes that I will make any Christian enjoy, just like they enjoy God's word, to be precise.

I am writing The Troll's Tale for many Christians (whom are fans of DreamWorks Animation's Trolls) to laugh, think about, and above all, to enjoy for many great readers who read many classic literature, including (but not limited to) Cervantes, Shakespeare, J.K. Rowling, Dan Brown, Leo Tolstoy, Charles Dickens, James Joyce, Herman Neville, Henry Fielding, David Foster Wallace, Stephen Meyer (not to make you guys angry and all, but Twilight makes me interested in vampire fiction), and last and not least, Bram Stoker, who wrote another famous character in literature, Dracula himself.

I will also include my creative writing, including the names of all the lands and riverheads, names, and other stuff included in this book. There will also be some mistakes that I placed on purpose, because I want to make fun of either creative fiction or any other type of fiction that exists in your books alongside mine. Right now, I really don't have much time to talk so much, because I really got to get this book started for your own enjoyment.

For those who think I am just a YouTube user. Well guess what? I am not just a user for YouTube; I am also a newbie as an author, until then... Vale

First Part of the Adventures of Trollesis

In which it was accounted by Trolls and Tarzan

CHAPTER I

In which Peppy, a troll king, created and formed his world, and trolls in his perfectly-grateful image

In the beginning of this tale, Peppy, who was a troll king at this time, started creating his world, which would be full of trolls, and other places that surrounded him. At that time, the world was formless and very, very empty for him. The darkness also covered both the land and the waters in his world, and as he was on the land aside the water, he then said:

“Let there be colors and light in the land and the waters, so that I will see everything in order to create the world that I have in mind.”

Then, suddenly, Peppy saw the light and the colors, filling his own world before his eyes. That was, when he started separating the light from the darkness. He then called the light “Day” and the darkness “Night”. That was when the 1st day of his world came to fruition for him, which was good since he has some great ideas to create in his world. He also said:

“Let there be some space between the waters, and to separate the waters from my world, from the waters of the great sea.”

The waters then separated as Peppy made the big space from the waters of his world, and he would call his space “sky”. Then the 2nd day came after that. He then said:

“Now let the waters beneath the great sky flow together into one place, so that dry grounds appear to me before my eyes.”

The ground then rose to his feet, which he then feel the great ground connecting him to the circle of life, and then he call the dry ground “land” and the waters “sea”, which it was so great for Peppy. Peppy said:

“Now let the land sprout with great fruit and vegetation – every sort of great and delicious seed will bear both of them. These scrumptious seeds will then produce the kind of unreal plants and natural trees from which they will come from.”

That became true for Peppy, because after that, the trees came bursting up, the land produced fruit and vegetation, the seeds produced unreal plants and natural trees of each of their own kind. That was perfect for Peppy, since it was his next wish that came true. It then became the 3rd day after that. Peppy then said:

“Let every light appear in this beautiful sky, in order to separate the day from the night. Not only that, let them be signs to mark each season, holiday, day, and year. Let there also be lights in the sky that shine down in my world.”

Peppy then created two precious lights – the larger one that governs the day, and the smaller one to govern the night, and an addition to that, he also created a bunch of stars to light up the night sky. That is when the 4th day came next. He then said:

“Let the forest abound with an abundance of living creatures, and let those that fly above the face of my world.”

So Peppy created a lot of great creatures and those that fly around the world that he created – which each had produced an offspring of each kind, and Peppy was so proud to see it come to life. Then the 5th day came. Peppy then said:

“Let my world produce every sort of other species, each that will produce an offspring of each kind as well – livestock for those, small animals that will scurry on each ground, and other species, including burgens, lions, cats, dogs, leopards, and, you know what I am saying, right?”

Peppy eventually made every creature of each kind, each that will indeed produce a offspring of their own, including livestock, small animals, and other species of each kind, and it was good for Peppy indeed. He then said: "Let us make trolls in my perfectly-grateful image, and to be like us. They will sing, dance, and hug together, they will also reign over the creatures on land and water, the birds in the sky, the livestock, and the small animals that will scurry all over the ground."

Then, finally (which took long for me to write), Peppy made trolls in his image. In his perfectly-grateful image, he created both male and female trolls. Peppy gave those good, cute hugs and blessings, and then said:

"Remember trolls; be happy and true to your heart. Be fruitful and multiply as well. Fill my world and govern it, and always sing, dance, and hug each other. Reign over the creatures on land and water, the birds in the sky, and all the animals that scurry on each ground."

Peppy also said:

"Let this forest in my world gather together in one place, and let the happiness and their hair powers grow."

That is when Peppy let out his hair to gain power and ability to use or move their hair to an impossible length, and the happiness grew inside of every trolls that he made, and it was a good sign for him.

Then Peppy said:

"Look! I did indeed given you every seed-bearing plants, fruit, and vegetation throughout my world, so the fruit trees are your food to enjoy. And I did all the animals, the birds in the sky, and the small animals that scurry on each ground – everything that has happy life."

Then Peppy looked over all he had made and it was very good for him. That is when the 6th day came.

So the creation of the world that Peppy created and everything that was creative in his mind was all complete, and on the 7th day, he had finished all the work and took a big break in his new home. And finally, Peppy blessed the 7th day and declared it Troll day, because it was the day that everything came to life for all trolls and creatures in his world.

CHAPTER II

In which Peppy meets Creek and warned him not to eat the forbidden fruit

When Peppy created the world that he desired to make, neither wild plants nor grains grow on his world. That is, because Peppy did not send rain to water his land, and there was no trolls to cultivate the soil at all. Instead, an unusual spring came up from the ground like smoke and watered everything on the land. Then Peppy formed trolls from the ground and breathed the great troll breath of life into the male troll's nostrils, and the male troll became a living being.

Then Peppy planted a garden in the middle of the forest, and placed the male troll that he made, Peppy made other sorts of trees grow up from the ground – trees that were beautiful and it produced scrumptious, delicious, and delightful fruit that even Shakespeare or Cervantes would loved to try. In the middle of the garden, he placed the tree of life and the tree of the knowledge of good and evil.

A river flowed from the forest, watering the garden, and then parted, which became four branches. The name of the first is Trollscreek, which flows around the entire land of Bergen Town, where there is gold. And the gold of that land is very delectable. Hogdwellium (which was the third branch) and the philosopher's stone are there. The second branch, called Branchdellium, which flows around the whole newly formed Troll village. The third branch, called Hogdwellium, flows east of the forest. The fourth and final river, called Poppyium, is where the philosopher's stone is hidden in between the fourth river.

Peppy then placed the male troll to the garden in the middle of the forest, to tend and watch over it. The male troll was eventually named Creek.

Then Peppy said to Creek:

“You can eat the fruit of every single tree of this forest, all except the tree of the knowledge between good and evil. If you do eat the fruit there, you are pretty sure die or suffer the most painful consequence.”

Then Peppy said to Creek:

“It is not good for you to be alone, Creek. I will make a new helper that will be just right for you.”

So Peppy formed all the wild animals from the ground, and all the birds of the sky. He brought them to Creek to see what would he call them, and Creek chose a name for each one, Creek eventually gave names to all of the animals, but there was still no helper for Creek.

So, in order to get him a helper, Peppy caused Creek to fall into a great deep sleep, and collapsed like a statue. As Creek was sleeping, Peppy grabbed one of Creek’s ribs and close up his opening, and he brought a female troll to Creek.

“At last, that was the one I was looking for!” Creek said, “This one is a bone, from a useless bone, and flesh, from my precious flesh! She will be indeed called a female troll, because she was taken from a man like me.”

This explains why a male troll would leave his troll family, and is joined to his new wife troll, and that is where the two are unified into one. Now both the male and the female troll were both naked, but they felt no shame at all. The female troll would eventually be called Hermione.

CHAPTER III

In which Creek and Hermione both sin by eating the forbidden fruit, thanks to that stupidendously stupid serpent

The serpent was the most stupendous, the most stupid, and the shrewdest of all those wild animals that Peppy made (he was also greedy and very, very drunk). One day, the serpent said to Hermione:

"Did Peppy really say that you must not eat the fruit from any of the trees in the garden?"

"Of course we can eat fruit from every trees of the garden and in the forest," Hermione replied, "It is only the fruit from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, that is in the middle of the forest, that we are not allowed to eat at all. Peppy said, 'You must not eat them or even touch them, and if you do, you will die or suffer the most painful consequence.'"

"You will, or shall I say, won't die!" The serpent replied, "Peppy does know that your eyes will be opened indeed as soon as you deliciously eat it, and you'll just be like Peppy, knowing both good and evil indeed."

Hermione was indeed convinced, but in reality, she was being fooled by that serpent. She did see that the tree was very pretty to look at, and the fruit looked very scrumptious in her eyes, as if she was looking at cute creatures at a distance, and she wanted the wisdom it would give her, as she imagined that Peppy would give Hermione a crown and become queen next to him. So, to make her dream come true, she took a great big bite of one of the apples in that tree. Then she gives some to Creek, who was with her since the day they were together, and then he ate it, too. At that great and stupendous moment, their eyes were opened, and they suddenly felt shamed because of their nakedness (which their butts were exposed in the beautiful land of the forest). So they sewed up fig leaves together to cover their nudies.

When the cool breeze were blowing between them, they started hearing Peppy's footsteps, so Creek and the female troll hid themselves from Peppy among the trees of the forest.

Then Peppy called to Creek and said to him"

"Where are you? I wanted to say something really important, and it is the future depending on you both."

So Creek came out and said:

"I am here. Thank goodness you are here; at least you are not mad at all. I heard your voice in the forest, and at first I was afraid because I and my wife were really naked; so we hid ourselves. So, what is the important news?"

"Who told you that you were naked?" Peppy replied, "And of course I am not mad; I am a little upset because I have this little question. And that is, have you eaten from the tree of which I commanded that you should not eat at all?"

"The female troll whom you gave to be with me," Creek said, "She gave me of that pretty looking tree and I ate. There is nothing wrong about that, it was really good."

"What is this you have done?" Peppy said to Hermione, "You could have got me angry, but I can't because I am wise, brave, wisdom, and I always give respect to the entire Troll village. I can't believe you ate the apple after I told Creek that trolls should have not eaten the forbidden fruit, who had led this broken and unhappy sin."

"That despicable, double crossing drunken twat serpent fooled me for this stupid horrible sin," Hermione said angrily, "And I ate it all because I believed in that drunken betraying serpent for nothing. I am so sorry, Peppy; will you ever forgive me for the sin. I just wanted to be a queen next to you."

"Of course I will forgive you for that horrible sin." Peppy replied, "I should have known of that twat serpent for this stupid sin."

Then he turned to the serpent and said:

"Because you have done this ridiculous sin, you are really cursed more than all animals, domestic and wild, and burgen and beast, you will crawl inside your stupid belly, and groveling in the dust as you as you live, forever!"

"No!" the serpent replied, "You can't! Do you really think I am innocent, and if you are, Hermione, you shall be gone forever."

But Peppy, ignoring the serpent's mean comment, continued:

"And I will put hostility between that twat serpent and Hermione, and between your offspring and her offspring, she shall someday, strike your stupid head, and you shall strike her heel."

Then Peppy said to Hermione:

"I will greatly multiply your beautiful sorrow and your conception; in pain you shall bring forth children; your desire of feminist shall be for your husband, and he shall rule over you. You are forgiven from that horrible serpent. And of course, I will make you queen someday."

That made Hermione smile very proudly, but for Creek, not so much. Peppy eventually said to him:

"I'm sorry to say this, but because you have heeded the voice of Hermione, and have eaten from the tree of which I had command you, saying, 'You shall not eat of it'. Cursed is the forest for your own sake, in toil you shall eat of it all the days of your life. Both thorns and thistles it shall bring forth for you, and you shall eat the herbs of the land of the forest. In the sweet sweat of your face you shall eat bread till you return to the ground or the river, for out of it you were taken; for dust you are, and to dust you shall return."

Also for Creek and Hermione, Peppy made tunies of skin, and clothed them. Then Peppy said:

"Behold, Creek has become one of us, to know good and evil. And now, lest he put out his hand and take also of the tree of life, and eat, and live forever"

Therefore Peppy sent Creek out of the forest to till the river as his new place where he then belonged. So he drove out of male trolls; and he placed cherubim at the east of the forest, and a powerful flaming sword (entitled the Sword of Poppy) which turned every way, to guard the way to the tree of life.

CHAPTER IV

In which Hermione bore Cooper and Biggie, brought music to the village, and slashed that twat serpent with the Sword of Poppy

After Creek was droved out by Peppy, Hermione conceived Peppy and bore Cooper, and said:

"I have acquired a male troll from Peppy."

Then she later bore again, this time his brother Biggie. Now Biggie was a keeper of the keys and gamekeeper of the Troll village, but Cooper was the goofy tap-dancing giraffe troll that helps the trolls in the village. And in the process of time it came to pass that Cooper brought an offering of music, happiness, and of course, fruit of the ground to Peppy. Biggie also brought the firstborn trolls and young troll children, which made Peppy happy and respected Biggie for his offering.

But somehow he did not respect Cooper and his offering, which made him a little bit angry and he muttered some sarcastic thoughts to Peppy, which then Peppy changed his mind and then finally respected Cooper and started a revolution on music around the Troll village. So then, Peppy said to Cooper:

"How is the music going? I think you are going pretty well with the Troll community. I also think that music is starting to bring joy and happiness to the entire village. I am sorry about not respecting at first. A lesson is that if you do well, you will be able to be accepted for the offering. Remember, sin does lie from an evil monster or creature, including that despicable twat serpent that is drunk and led Hermione to that horrible sin, but she forgiven me for that sin. So remember, Cooper, sin does lie from a terrible creature."

Then the serpent returned from eating a bunch of sand and said to Cooper: "If you do a lovely sin to stop Peppy, you have to forbid music."

"No, I do not want to forbid music in the village." Cooper replied, "The entire village is loving music and you want me to remove it. You must be the same serpent that tricked Hermione to eat the forbidden fruit. You must have a bunch of those drunken serpents, so I must destroy you with the sword of Poppy."

Cooper then fled to Peppy's stand and said to Peppy very quickly:

"Sorry, I must take the Sword of Poppy for a second."

"Why? What is your need for the sword?" Peppy said in question.

"I must kill this drunken serpent; he is the one who seduced Hermione on eating the forbidden fruit!" Cooper replied.

Then Cooper sliced the head of the drunken serpent with the flaming sword of Poppy and it vanished from the face of the world. Everyone cheered just as Peppy said:

"What have you done to save us all? I think you are brave already, because what you have done was very heroic for us all. You are not cursed at all; the serpent is indeed very cursed from the world of ours. I think we will honor you and your blessing."

"Thank you, this sin is no longer with us anymore." Cooper replied, "But I think there are more drunk serpents in the forest, so if one of them comes back and tricks one of the trolls, you will strike those drunken serpents with your awesome curse."

"Indeed, the sin is gone for now." Peppy said proudly, "I think there will be one day of brave and courage when I will get my own princess to save all of you and most of the world of Trolls from sin."

Cooper had known Hermione for so long, so he later helped her bore Suki (a.k.a. DJ Suki). And he helped with Peppy to extend more of the village, which gave more space for most of the trolls to live in a peaceful and happy village. To Suki was born Harry; and Harry begot Sirius, and Sirius begot Robert, and Robert begot Francis. Then Francis took for himself two wife trolls: the name of one was Bridgette, and the name of the second was Gwen. And Bridgette bore Mark. He was the father of those who dwell in tents on the side of Troll village and attends rave parties in the village. His brother's name was Snape. He was the father of all those who play the drums and sings along with Cooper and Biggie, who then became the first leaders of the Snack Pack. And as for Gwen, she also bore Edward, an instructor of every troll dancer in rave culture. And the sister of Edward was Sophie. Then Francis said to his wives:

"Bridgette and Gwen, hear my voice; wives of Francis, listen to my awesome speech! For I have saved a troll from accidental drowning, even a young troll from drowning. If Cooper helped Peppy with the music and the bravery of killing the drunken serpent, and then Francis can save trolls from drowning."

And Creek knew his wife again, and she bore a son and named him Lupin, "Peppy has appointed another seed for me along with Cooper and Biggie." And as for Lupin, to him also a son was born; and he named him Magnus. Then male trolls began to call on the name of Peppy.

CHAPTER V

In which the genealogy of Creek is revealed for the first time in the histories of the trolls

This is the book of the genealogy of Creek. In the day that Peppy had created trolls; He made him in the likeness of Peppy. He created them male and female, and blessed them and called them Trollkind in the day they were created.

And Creek lived three hundred and fifty years, and still looked handsome for most of the Troll village. He also begot a son in his own likeness, after his image, and named him Lupin. After he begot Lupin, the days of Creek were two thousand years, and he had sons and daughters. So all the days that Creek lived were four thousand years, is where he met the princess and he almost met his fate alongside with a Bergen, whom tried to eat him, but then almost got eaten by a monster on the ground, which then he survived and returned to Peppy's troll village.

Lupin lived one hundred and five years, and had begot James. After he begot James, Lupin lived eight hundred and seven years, and had 5 sons and daughters. So all the days and years of Lupin were nine hundred and twelve years, and then he died from a counter attack from a witch troll named Bellatrix, who was executed for the death of Lupin.

James lived three hundred years and attended a Troll school where he met Lily, and were married. They later begot Harry Potter. After he begot Harry Potter, James lived eight hundred and fifteen years, and raised Harry for ten years. So the days and years of James was nine hundred and five years, until he was killed by a evil serpent-like troll named Voldemorex, when he broke in their home and killed both James and Lily, and tried to kill Harry but couldn't, which gave the little troll baby a scar. Peppy was notified about this so they sent their Troll companions to search the evil troll, but it was concluded he disappeared when attempting to kill Harry.

Harry lived seven thousand years, and begot Silas. After he begot Silas, Harry lived nine hundred years. He succeeded killing Voldemorex and then pleased Peppy for thankfulness and loyalty. He later had a son named Ron. Eleven thousand years later, which is the longest lifespan for Harry, he died at an old age, as he was thankful of his friends and the parties he attends.

Silas lived sixty five years, and begot Felix. After he begot Felix, he lived a hundred years, and had 2 daughters. A hundred and thirty years later, he died after Robert struggled with a little secret on trying to expose Peppy, but fell to his death in the middle of the staircase, and Robert felt very sad and begged forgiveness to Peppy (which he did) for that tragic day.

Felix lived one hundred and sixty two years, and he begot two twin trolls whose hair is conjoined together, and they were called Satin and Chenille. After Satin and Chenille was begot, Felix walked with Peppy three hundred years, and trained him to become the best father for the twins and an ultimate karate master to teach the young trolls about Kung-fu. So the life of Felix lasted three hundred and sixty five years. And Felix walked with Peppy; and he was not, for Peppy took him.

Satin and Chenille lived in their happy lives and loved Felix for taking care of them pretty well. The twins would eventually join the Snack Pack, along with more members of the team, and they became the fashion trolls that could help trolls to have pretty good fashion for parties and other holidays that they celebrate. Satin and Chenille would later begot Robert (Langdon), which became a troll detective and symbologist for Troll schools in the village.

Robert lived one hundred and eighty two years, and had a son as well. A son that became heroic for the biggest event that ever happened in Troll village. And he named his son Branch, saying, "This troll will comfort us concerning our work and the toil of our hands, because of the ground which Peppy did indeed had cursed." After he begot Branch, Robert lived five hundred and ninety five years, and then he died of old age.

And Branch was five hundred years old, and he begot William, Bill, and Andy.

CHAPTER VI

In which Peppy planned to flood his world, and encouraged Branch to build an ark for everyone

Now it came to pass, when male trolls began to grow and multiply on the face of the world, and daughters were born to them. That the sons of Peppy saw the daughters of male trolls, that they were beautiful; that they took wives for themselves of all whom they chose. And Peppy said:

"My troll spirit shall not strive with male trolls forever, and for he is indeed flesh; yet his days shall be one hundred and twenty years, just like my own set of Dalmatian dogs are one hundred and one. Same with my other dog named Hooch, which he was making a ruckus in my house, so much so that I struggled against him, just for fun."

There were regular humans along with the bergens on the world in those days, and also afterward, were the sons of Peppy came in to the daughters of male trolls and they bore their own children to them. Those were the mighty male trolls who were of old, male trolls of renown. Then Peppy saw that some of the wickedness in a couple of the male trolls was great in the world, and that every intent of some of the thoughts of his heart were unhappy, sad and grumpiness continually. And Peppy was sorry that he made male trolls (and trolls in general) on the world of his, and he was grieved in his heart. So Peppy said:

"I will destroy trolls whom I have created from the face of the world, both trolls, bergens and beast, creeping thing and birds of the air, for I am sorry that I have made them. I had made a regrettable, stupid, and ridiculous mistake."

But Branch found grace in the eyes of Peppy. This is the genealogy of Branch. Branch was a just male troll, perfect in his generations. Branch walked with Peppy. And Branch begot three troll sons: William, Bill, and Andy.

The world also was corrupt before Peppy, and the world was filled with cartoon violence and goofy proportions. So Peppy looked upon his world, and indeed it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted their way on the world. And Peppy said to Branch:

"The end of all those poor unfortunate flesh and soul has come before me, for the world was filled with goofy and ridiculous violence through their little minds; and behold, I will destroy them with the world. But make yourself an ark out of wood and gopher wood; make rooms in the ark, and cover it inside and outside with a pitch of wood or rocks. And this is how you shall make it, Branch; the length of the ark shall be three hundred cubits, and the width of the ark will be thirty cubits. You shall and should make a nice window for the astounding troll ark, and you shall finish it to a cubit from above; and set the door of the ark in its side. Also, you shall make it with lower, second, and third decks too. And behold, I, Peppy myself am bringing the floodwaters on the world, from the forest to Bergen Town, to destroy from under Troll village all flesh in which is the breath of life; everything that is on the world shall die. But I will establish my covenant with you all; and all of you shall go into Branch's troll ark, and all of your sons, wives, and your sons' wives will enter the ark. And of every living thing of all flesh you shall bring two of every sort into Branch's ark, to keep them alive with you all; and make sure they are male and female. Of the birds after their kind, of the animals after their kinds, of every bergens and beast after their kinds, and every creeping thing after their kind will come to you to keep them alive. And all of you trolls shall take for yourself of all food that is eaten, and you shall gather it yourself; and it shall be food for all of you to eat while you are on the ark."

Thus Branch did; according to all that Peppy commanded him, so he did.

CHAPTER VII

In which Peppy unleashed the flood to his world, after Branch places all (including his friends) into the ark

Then Peppy said to Branch:

"Come into your ark, you and all of the trolls, because I have seen that you are a righteous and grateful man before me in this generation. You shall take with you seven each of every clean animal, a male and his female to be precise; two each of animals that are unclean, a male and his female as well: Also seven each of those birds in the air, male and female, to keep the sacred species alive on the face of the entire world. For after seven more days, I will cause it to rain on the world forty days and forty nights, and I will destroy from the face of the world all living things that I have made."

And Branch did according to all that Peppy commanded to him. Branch was six hundred years old (which he still look like a teenager) when the floodwaters were on the world. So Branch, along with his new friends, Cooper, Biggie, Satin, Chenille, and Suki went into the ark because of the waters of the flood. Of clean animals, of animals that is unclean, of birds, and of everything that creeps on the world. Two by two they went into his ark to Branch, male and female, as Peppy commanded Branch.

And it came to pass after seven days that the waters of the flood were on the world. In the six hundredth year of Branch's life, in the second month (February), the seventeenth day of the month (17th), on the day all of the fountains of the great deep (full of unhappiness) broken up, and the windows of Troll village were finally opened. And the rain was indeed on the world forty days and forty nights.

On the very same day Branch and his friends, Cooper, Suki, Biggie, Satin, Chenille, and his sons as well including William, Bill, and Andy entered the ark. They, and every bergens and beast after its kind, all troll children and firstborns after their kind, every bird after its kind, and every creeping thing that creeps on the world after its kind. And they went into the Troll ark to Branch, two by two, of all flesh in which is the breath of life itself. And not only that, humans entered the troll ark as well (including the famous ape man of the Troll forest, Tarzan.)

So those that entered, male and female of all the troll flesh, went in as Peppy commanded him; and Peppy shut him in along with all of the trolls. But before he left as the floodwaters unleashed, he said to all of the creatures and trolls:

"Good luck on the ark all of you. Remember, no troll left behind. And to make sure that my new princess will come and save you all like a hero, or a heroine to be precise."

But unexpectedly, a troll child ran and shouted to Peppy as the child rushed to get in Branch's ark:

"Wait for me; I don't want to be left behind."

Peppy then grabbed the troll child and puts the child in the ark, and then Peppy said:

"Don't worry; you are now in the ark. Good luck everyone. Also I think I know the new chosen one's name is, it's Princess Poppy."

Then the ark's door closed shut as the floodwaters came in rapidly. Some of the trolls were frightened, including Cooper as he shouted frantically:

"What are we going to do with this crazy situation?!?"

Then all of the trolls started to sing to calm down those who are so scared and frightened, as the flood was on the earth for forty days. The waters did increased and lifted up the ark, and it rose high above the world, just as most of the trolls were indeed singing or playing a pack of cards while it happens. The waters then prevailed and greatly increased on the world, and the ark moved about on the surface of the waters. The waters continued to be prevailed exceedingly on the world, and all of the high hills under the whole Troll village were covered.

Although all the trolls are saved into the ark, most of the flesh died that moved on the world: most of the birds and some of the bergens and beast that never had a chance going into the ark, and some of the creeping things that creeps on the world, all vanished from the face of the Troll world. And all in whose nostrils was the important breath of life of the Troll spirit of life, all that was on the dry land of the Troll forest or at Bergen Town, died. So Peppy destroyed all living things which were on the face of the ground: both bergens and beast, and every creeping thing that creeps on the face of the Troll village were indeed destroyed. Only Branch, most of the trolls, most of the bergens and beast, bird, and even humans in the ark remained alive indeed.

One of the humans was Tarzan, the ape man of the Troll forest whose parents who raised Tarzan were indeed apes. Tarzan came to see the trolls and met them peacefully, which most of the Snack Pack and Branch himself, along with most of the trolls were very happy meeting the ape man and thanked Tarzan for protecting the tree of life for most of the trolls. But out of nowhere, a family of drunken serpents were joined as well into the ark and apologized to most of the trolls for seducing Hermione into eating the forbidden fruit and had beg forgiveness to Peppy himself.

Peppy eventually did forgive the drunken serpent family for one of those serpents whom did indeed make Hermione ate the forbidden fruit. And while all of the trolls and everything in the ark were making peace and harmony, the waters prevailed on the Troll world for one hundred and fifty days.

CHAPTER VIII

In which the floodwaters stopped, and Branch's ark lands on the tip of the mountain of Azkaban

Then Peppy remembered Branch very well, and every troll and every living thing, and all the animals that were with him in the ark. And KING Peppy made a wind to pass over the world, and the waters subsided. The fountains of the deep and the windows of Troll village were also stopped, and the rain from Troll village was restrained. And the waters receded continually from the Troll world. At the end of the hundred and fifty days the waters started to decreased.

Then finally the troll ark rested on the seventh month (July), the seventeenth day of the month (17th), and on the mountain of Azkaban. And the waters decreased continually until the tenth month (October), on the first day of the month (1st), the tops of the mountain were finally seen into view.

So it finally came to pass at the end of those forty days, that Branch opened the window of his ark which he had made. Branch finally said:

"I am going to send this raven out of the window and I am going to talk to my fellow trolls, bergens, and humans."

That is where he sent out a raven in an epic-film style, which the raven kept going and fro until the waters had finally dried and vanished from the Troll world. Branch also sent out for himself a dove to check if the waters had receded and vanished from the face of the ground. But the dove had found no such resting place for the sole of her foot, and she returned to the ark to Branch, for the waters were still on the face of the whole Troll world. So he put his hand and took the dove, and drew her into his ark to himself. And he waited yet another seven days while some of the trolls were getting new fashions from Satin and Chenille, and then Branch sends another dove out from his ark. Then the dove came to Branch in the beautiful evening, and finally beholds, a freshly plucked olive leaf was in her precious mouth; and that is when Branch knew that the waters had receded from the Troll world.

So he then waited another seven days again, and sends out the same dove, which then did not return again to Branch anymore. And it came to pass in the six hundred and first year, in the first month (January), the first day of the month (1st), that the waters were finally dried up from the world; and Branch removed the covering of his ark and took a look at outside, and indeed the surface of the solid ground was dry. And in the second month (February), on the twenty seventh day of the month (27th), the earth was dried.

Then Peppy finally came to Branch, saying:

"Go out of your ark, you and your friends and sons, and all of the trolls with you. And bring out with you every living thing of all flesh that is with you: birds, bergens and beast, human, and every creeping thing that creeps on the world, so that they may abound on the world, and be fruitful and multiply on the world of mine. Also, the forest and the village are protected by me including the tree of life."

So Branch finally went out, and his friends and sons were with him as well. Every troll, bergens, beast, human, bird, and every creeping thing that creeps the world, according to their families, went out of Branch's ark, Then Branch built an altar for Peppy, and took of every clean animal, and of every clean bird, and offered burnt offerings of the altar. And Peppy smelled a soothing aroma and smiled happily, and then he said in his heart to Branch:

"I will not never ever again curse the ground for male troll's sake, although the imagination of male troll's heart is evil or unhappy in his youth; nor will I again destroy every living thing as I have done in my past. I thank you for saving all of the trolls and most of the creatures for the whole Troll world, Branch. I bless you for this great event. While the Troll world remains, seed time and harvest, cold and heat, winter and summer, and day and night in the world, including the forest, bergens town, and Troll village will and shall indeed not cease."

Second Part of the Adventures of Trollesis

CHAPTER IX

In which Peppy gave an immortal blessing to Branch, and other events worthwhile reading

Around the time that Peppy started to give Branch an immortal blessing, this deliciously satisfying history suddenly cut off (just like what Cervantes had been through with his Quixote), and to find the next pages, I went to the town of Toledo, and suddenly found a ton of pages.

I suddenly grabbed a lot of pages from the American La Mancha Archives facility and hired a translator to read a little the title page. In response, he said:

"The Second Volume of the Adventures of Trollesis, by Justine de Cervantes, Scottish Historian."

I was jumping in joy, so much so, that he started translating the second part (while laughing at the same time, because it was so funny), so in preparation for this delicious history, here is how it started:

So Peppy blessed Branch and his sons, and his friends as well, and then said to them:

"Remember, be fruitful and multiply, and fill the world up with happy trolls. And the fear of you and the unhappy and horrible dread of you shall be on every bergens and beast on the world, on every bird of the air, on that entire move on the world, and on all of the trolls of the village and the forest. This forest I shall name will be The Forest of Dawn. Also, they are given into your hand. Every moving thing that lives shall be food for you as well. I have given you all things, even as the great food to all of the trolls. But you shall not eat flesh with its life, that is, its blood as well. Surely for your lifeblood I will demand a reckoning; from the hand of every bergens and beast I will require it, and from the hand of a troll. From the hand of every troll's brother or son, I will require the life of trolls. Whoever sheds troll's happiness, by another troll his happiness shall be shed; for in the image of Peppy he made trolls. And as for you all, be fruitful and multiply; bring forth abundantly in the Troll world and multiply in it."

Then Peppy said to Branch and to his sons and friends with him, saying:

"And as for me, behold, I have established my covenant with you and with your descendants along with you, And with every living creature that is with you, the birds, the humans, every bergens and beast, and all of the creeping things that have indeed creep in the Troll world with you, of all that go out of your ark, and even then I have already said bergens and beast already. Thus I will establish my covenant with you: never again shall all flesh be cut off by the waters of the flood; never again shall there be a flood to destroy the Troll world."

And Peppy said:

"This is the sign of covenant which I make between my faithful friend, Branch and me, and every living creatures, trolls, bergens and beast that is with you, for perpetual generations: I set my rainbow in the clouds and it will be a sign for two things, one is the happiness for all the trolls and second is the covenant between me and the world. And it shall be, when I bring a cloud over the world, and that the rainbow shall be seen in the cloud; And I will remember my covenant which is between me and you and all of the trolls and every living creatures of this world; the waters shall never again become a flood to destroy all troll or creature or even every flesh of this world. The rainbow shall be in the cloud and I will look on it to remember the everlasting covenant between Peppy and every living creature of all flesh that is on the earth."

"I think you are a great ruler after all, and a great creator of our world, the world of the trolls." Branch replied, "Can you believe it? I am in your faith full of happiness and joy along with my friends and all of the trolls."

"Of course I believe it, and thank you for saying I am a great ruler." Peppy responded, "This will always be a sign of covenant which I have established between me and all flesh that is on the Troll world."

Now the sons of Branch who went out of the ark are William, Bill, and Andy. And Bill was the father of DJ Suki. These three were the sons of Branch, and from these the whole Troll world was populated. And Branch began to be a ruler of Troll Village alongside Poppy, and he helped all of the trolls after all of trolls returned to troll village.

Then Peppy got married to a female troll wife named Mariah and they later begot the new chosen one, called Princess Poppy. Branch takes care of the princess (because she is still a troll baby) and helps Peppy to make Princess Poppy happy, which then it made the new princess as the happiest troll ever born.

And Bill, the father of DJ Suki, saw the birth of Princess Poppy and told Branch's other sons the good news. But William and Andy took a peek at the birth, and they started to hysterically sob uncontrollably and they were smiling in their tears.

So Branch was one of the trolls who became immortal after Peppy blessed him, which then he did not grow old skin at all. He then helped his sons to like the new princess, which worked for Branch and his sons to make Poppy happier in her early days of her life.

So Branch lived a pretty good life as he is now immortal, and still continues to help Peppy with the newborn princess of the trolls. Also for the Snack Pack, they were so happy to see the newborn princess as well, and all of the Snack Pack including Cooper, Biggie, Branch, DJ Suki, Satin, and Chenille hoped that she becomes the new leader of the team when she grows up as a strong independent and brave leader of the trolls.

CHAPTER X

In which the genealogy of Branch is also revealed for the first time, just like Creek's

Now this is the genealogy of the sons of Branch: William, Bill, and Andy. And sons were born to them after the flood.

The sons of Andy were Billy, Jane, Clayton, Jack, Edwin, and Edmond.

The sons of Billy were Malfoy, Crabbe, and Goyle.

The sons of Clayton were Elizabeth, Daniel, Eliot, and Anna.

From these the coastland trolls of the second Troll village were accidentally separated from the one of the lands, which they were called the main pride land, according to their troll families, into their nations.

The sons of Bill were Bella, Adam, Crush, and Martin.

The sons of Bella were Beauty, Rowan, Mowgli, Jasmine, and Rose; and the sons of Jasmine were Gordon and Barney.

Bella begot Harkinian; Harkinian himself would later become the king of the third Troll village entitled Hyrule. Harkinian was a mighty king and a game hunter alongside Peppy; therefore it is said, "Like Harkinian the mighty king and game hunter along with Peppy." And the beginning of his kingdom of the trolls, there were a couple of Troll villages and cities that Harkinian built in his golden years, including the first Troll village he created and secretly nicknamed Trollian. The rest were called Peppian, Washington, Poppian, and Santian, in the land of his troll village.

From that land he went to Hogwartia and built Broadian, Jerseymin, Georgian and Diagonist between Broadian and Georgian (that is the principal troll city).

Harkinian would later begot Shamus, Bridget, Dashie, Joseph, Tina, and Gina (from whom came the Flinstones troll family and the Ricardo's troll family as well).

Martin begot Alyx his firstborn, and Wallace;

The Jacksons, the Gardens, the Micelles; the Moonvilles, the Anthheads, the Yelloheads; the Rygods, the Jailbreaks, and the Mississippis. Afterward the families of one of the troll villages called Leroux were dispersed.

And the border of the Leroux was from Alyx as you go toward Gargamel, as far as Gozer; them as you go forward Washington, Poppian, and Peppian, as far as Hogwartia.

These were the sons of Bill, according to their families, and according to their original language, English, in their troll villages and in their lands.

And troll children were born also to Shamus, the father of all the troll children of Robert, the brother of Felix and Creek the original troll that was the first to walk on the land of the original Troll village.

The sons of Shamus were Eliza, Funkious, Shrekous, Ladous, and Sirious.

Shrekous begot Sarah, and Sarah begot Ebert.

To Ebert were born two new troll sons; the name of one was Pete; for in his days the world was divided; and his brother's name is Umbridge.

Umbridge begot Jackissippi, Brackissippi, Lebowski, Hook, Riley, Anastasia, Mike, John, Christopher, Bruce, Ash, Tip, Moby, and Gippetto. All these were the troll sons and troll daughters of Umbridge.

And their dwelling place was in between the main Troll village and the forest of Dawn, and not only that, Umbridge and his troll sons and troll daughters occasionally meet and have fun with the Snack Pack and talk with Peppy and Branch himself about the newborn princess.

These were also the sons of Shamus, according to their families, and in their Troll villages, according to the land of the trolls.

These were the families of Branch, according to their generations of the Troll villages, in their lands; and from these the lands and villages were divided on the Troll world after the flood.

CHAPTER XI

In which Tarzan and his gorilla mother has a sleepover with the Snack Pack, and the tale of Tarzan, on how he became the ape man of the forest

A couple of days after the flooding ceased, Tarzan, who is the ape man, journeyed from the east in the bright moon, that he found a little resting place for Tarzan and his ape mother, Kala in the left side of the Forest of Dawn where in the middle of the land is where the Troll village is. Then Tarzan said to Kala:

"Come; let us check out the resting place for both of us because you are my mother. We can have bananas in this forest, and a plenty of good rest in the night."

Kala was the one who raised Tarzan after his real parents was killed by a leopard named Sabor, who became the most ferocious leopard of the forest. Yes, despite that the Forest of Dawn is a forest, it does have more land to be called a jungle as well because it also have a waterfall for sorts of animals including elephants, snakes, and apes. Kala agreed to check out the resting place with Tarzan and said:

"We can show Terk this resting place as well; this might be a nice place for your ape friends or troll friends to have a pretty nice sleepover in this forest."

"Hmm, I got to agree with you," Tarzan replied, "that's a really nice idea." Then Peppy, along with Branch and the Snack Pack came to see Tarzan and Kala in the forest of Dawn after hearing some noises in the far edge of the troll village.

"What are you doing here, Tarzan?" Peppy said, "Also, is this your mother? Because I thought you were born with your real parents."

"I was showing Kala my resting place to rest in the forest of Dawn, and of course it is my mother, silly." Tarzan replied, "I already know that my old parents raised me, when this land was created; they went and build the tree house before they were killed by that leopard. I know that leopard is somewhere in the far distance of the forest."

"Hmm, that is very interesting. I never knew that your old parents were killed by a leopard." Peppy said happily, "Would the Snack Pack sleep with Tarzan and you, Kala?"

"Sure, why not." Kala replied, "Can Terk also come to sleep with Tarzan as well? Terk is his best friend along with Tantor."

"No problem, you can let Terk sleep with you and Tarzan." Peppy said.

That is when Kala came to see Terk (who is a female ape, by the way) and said that he is allowed to sleep in the resting place with Tarzan and the trolls. So, Terk came to the resting place with Tarzan and the Snack Pack, looking excited to have a sleepover with the ape man.

"Oh yes!" Cooper said excitedly, "This is going to be a fun sleepover and that is the way I am feeling right now!"

Then they had a night of their lives, played some games with both Terk and Kala, and Tarzan told some spooky tales about Tarzan's dark past involving the leopard, which really made them feel scared. Then they eventually said good night to each other and they had started to sleep peacefully in the dead of night. Peppy was very proud of them that they slept with them as well.

Now for readers wanting to know why is Tarzan doing in this story, then I will tell you this story on how Tarzan remembered his dark past in the history of his parents.

His parents were forty three and thirty seven years old when their ship was travelling to the Troll village where Peppy was creating, and it happened right before the big flood. The ship then caught on fire and then they escaped the burning ship along with the newborn baby. After they escaped the burning ship, they named the newborn human baby Tarzan as the lifeboat goes towards the Troll village and the Forest of Dawn. Then after the lifeboat reached land, they travelled across to the big tree and they thought it was a nice place for Tarzan and themselves. It took about a month to build the tree house and they were very safe at first.

Then the leopard strikes at Tarzan's parents, killing them instantly in the tree house, only leaving Tarzan safe and alive from the leopard. But it not only happened to his parents, but also Kala's newborn gorilla, along with Kerchak, her husband. The newborn gorilla was chasing a frog in the dead of night when suddenly, the gorilla saw the leopard roaring at him, and chased the newborn in the forest until he was killed cold blood. Kala and Kerchak were horrified and traumatized after it happened, that is when Kala then discovered Tarzan and raised him herself, and that is where he became the ape man of the forest. That was the story of how Tarzan became the ape man in the Forest of Dawn, for your enjoyment.

CHAPTER XII

In which Tarzan was brought to the waterfall by Branch to do the elephant hair dare, and other stupendous events worth remembering

"You must bring Tarzan and Terk, away from his mother, from his ape family, to the waterfall that I will show him." Peppy said to Branch, "Terk will be excited and he will make Tarzan the new king of both the forest and Jungle, I will bless him just like I blessed you, Branch. I will bless those who will be dared to see the waterfall with the elephants and anyone hurts the ape man will be cursed including game hunters or greedy or bitey animals like alligators or hippos. And in you, Tarzan, and Terk, all of the ape families and the troll families on the world will and shall be blessed."

So Branch came from the KING and told Tarzan and Terk, and along with the Snack Pack to come to the waterfall for this new challenge for Tarzan, and it must be an elephant hair dare. Then Branch took Tarzan, Terk, and the Snack Pack further into the forest of Dawn and they departed to go to the waterfall. So they were a little close to it. Branch passed through the forest to the vast Jungle of Dawn where more apes were watching Tarzan the ape man, Terk, Branch and the Snack Pack trolls in fascination.

Then Branch appeared to Branch and said:

"To your friends, the ape man, and his friend, I will give you the challenge when you go to the waterfall."

And there Tarzan and the trolls built the altar for Peppy, who had appeared to him. And he moved from the Jungle to the east where the waterfall is almost close. So Branch, The Snack Pack, Tarzan, and Terk journeyed, going on toward to the east.

Then they finally reached the waterfall and all of them looked down to the view of the elephants playing along. Then Peppy appeared again and said:

"Here is this little challenge for you Tarzan, if you are brave enough, then this challenge is for you. This challenge is to grab an elephant hair from the elephant's tale. If you did it, then I will give my blessing for you, Tarzan. Good luck."

Then Peppy vanished and Tarzan was prepared and determined to do the challenge. In a matter of seconds, Tarzan jumped down the waterfall and into the waters and he swam towards the elephants.

Tantor was there having a pretty peaceful shower in the water when suddenly he saw the swimming Tarzan, and he thought it was a piranha at first, so he shouted and screamed very frantically. Then the other elephants were confused about what Tantor was doing, so one of them stopped Tantor and said:

"What are you talking about?"

"There is a piranha in here!" Tantor said in his frantic voice as he was breathing in his panicky breath.

The elephant prince of the jungle said to Tantor:

"There is no piranha in this waterfall, you are absolutely insane- MY BUTT!!!"

Tarzan held tight to the elephant's tale and struggled to grab a piece of an elephant hair as the trolls and Terk on top of the rocky waterfall were watching in victory cheers, then when Tarzan finally grabbed a piece of an elephant hair, he then got smacked into the water when all of the elephants were going crazy when they realized that Tarzan was on the prince's tale and went absolutely bonkers. It finally knocked Tarzan out unconsciously into the water as his hand forcedly held tight on the elephant hair piece. Then the elephants ran very fast to the high hills at the top of the waterfall is, and that is when Terk and the Snack Pack are on it.

"He's dead." Terk said sadly.

Then the elephants came running closer to them and Cooper shouted:

"NOW WHERE DEAD!"

The elephants came rushing into the jungle of Dawn, smashing into another elephant frantically as they were so scared that Tarzan would actually be a piranha. The Snack Pack and Terk were so scared that they kept running so fast from the stampeding elephants, and then they shouted at the gorillas:

"LOOK OUT! THERE IS A STAMPEDE OF ELEPHANTS COMING TO GET US!!!"

Then the gorillas saw the unfolding events coming on their way and they had to run so fast to dodge the elephant's giant footsteps. Then the trolls finally made to their village to safety, and Terk was saved by Peppy just as he was almost getting squished like a pancake for breakfast.

"Tarzan! Where is Tarzan!?!?" Peppy shouted frantically as he was looking for him.

"Tarzan got the elephant hair," DJ Suki said, "but he got hit into the water when the elephants were going bonkers about a piranha."

"This is madness there; I can't believe that elephants think that Tarzan is a piranha." Peppy said in shock.

Then he shouted at the elephants:

"TARZAN IS NOT A PIRANHA, YOU DINGBATS! HE IS A HUMAN!"

After that happened, the Snack Pack, Terk, and Peppy came into the waterfall down the hill to see if Tarzan is okay. They were almost horrified when they thought that Tarzan drowned and Terk rushed in to drag Tarzan out of the water to see if he is okay. Terk then shouted at Tarzan, saying:

"Tarzan! Are you okay, buddy! Please say something to me!"

Tarzan then gasped and coughed water out of his mouth, meaning that he is okay.

"I am alright, and I got the elephant hair for you." Tarzan said.

"I can't believe you actually did that though," Peppy said happily to Tarzan, "I thought it was sarcastic, but you really got the elephant hair. I think you completed the challenge and I will bless you for this. In your faith, I think you will be as immortal as the Snack Pack, Branch, and me."

"Thank you for the blessing. I will trust you, Peppy." Tarzan replied.

Then Tarzan, Peppy, Terk, and the Snack Pack came back to the Troll village and they were back to their normal lives after that stupendous adventure at the waterfall.

CHAPTER XIII

In which Branch became friends with Phil, a gorilla, and Peppy told him to save all the sinful trolls at Cocola in this amazing event

After the adventure with the elephant hair dare, Branch woke up from the waterfall, and that is when he realized that he forgot to get back to Peppy's Troll village after the elephants stampeded from the Jungle of Dawn to the forest of Dawn. One very interesting fact about Branch is when he became very rich in his livestock right after the flood that Peppy made. And while that they were back at their normal lives, he continued to went on his journey from the hill of the waterfall as far, to the jungle of Dawn where the gorillas were at the edges of the path, when he actually met a gorilla named Phil. Branch and Phil went to the place of the altar in the path where the Snack Pack, Terk, Tarzan, and Branch himself went to the waterfall. And there Branch called on the name of Peppy. Phil also, who went with Branch, had a big gorilla family and does learn how to put up a tent like a human or a troll would do.

Now the Troll village was not able to support Phil yet, that they might dwell together, for Phil's possessions were so interesting and great that they couldn't dwell together with Phil's heavy possessions in his back or at his arms. And there was strife between the herd trolls of Branch's troll livestock and the herd gorillas of Phil's gorilla livestock. The Troll village and the Jungle of Dawn would then dwell together. So Branch said to Phil: "Please, I know you are now a new friend to a troll like me, but don't let there be no strife between my herd trolls and your herd gorillas; for we are brethren. Is not the whole world (including the Troll village, the forest of Dawn, and the jungle of Dawn) before you? We can stick together as one, but you want take the left, then I will go to the right; or if you want to go right, then I will go to the left."

Then Phil's lifted his eyes and saw the plain of Poppyium, that the philosopher's stone was still hidden in the little unopened hole (which was still protected when Peppy destroyed Cocola and Cervantes) just like the highly secured and protected garden of Peppy, which is at the middle of the jungle of Dawn, as you go toward Hyrule.

Then Phil chooses to stick together with Branch, and they headed west and back to the Troll village. Both Branch and Phil dwelt at the Troll village and Phil was allowed to visit the village and placed the tent of his in the side of the village. But the male trolls of Cocola were exactingly despicable, grumpy, and sinful against Peppy. And Peppy said to Branch, after Phil placed the tent on the side of the village:

"Lift your very trolley eyes and help your faith with those people of Cocola. It depends on your braveness, along with the Snack Pack and even Tarzan himself. For all the land which you want to see for saving those sins with most of the Snack Pack's humorous tools of unsining those who are so grumpy and very, very despicable indeed. And the other option is that I will make your friends and sons to make those sinful trolls into dust of Cocola; so if one of the great, cleanful, and an unsinner could number the dust of Cocola, then your friends and sons can help you count those numbers as well. So Branch, Arise and walk into the troll village of Cocola, through its own crazy length and width, for I will give this journey to you." Then finally Branch, the Snack Pack, and Tarzan started to walk from his Troll village, to the Jungle, and finally into Cocola as a stupendously great adventure for Peppy, so that he can help those sinful trolls and build another altar for Peppy.

CHAPTER XIV

In which Tarzan and the Snack Pack saves all the sinful trolls in Cocola, while Branch battles with Frollo to save his friend, which will become the most stupendously amazing adventure ever

During the days of Dolittle, king of Trollhollow (which is another Troll village, but it is based on the classic tale on Sleepy Hollow), Roxanne, the 2nd king of Forks, Danny, the 3rd king of Britroll, and Michelangelo, the manager of Trolls and Christian Magic of the Ministry of Troll Magic. They erupted into a great troll war against Frollo, the king of Cocola, Porter, the king of Coltrolls, Umbridge, and not the son of Branch, but the minister who works at the Ministry of Troll Magic whose acts made torture to most of the sinful trolls in Cocola, Sirabi, the king of Trollzira, Kerchak, the former leader of the apes and the king of Sabora, and the king of Hogwartia (That is Harkinian).

All these joined together in the Valley of the Trolls (that is, far from Peppy's Troll village). Twelve years they had served Roxanne, and in the thirteenth year, they have rebelled.

In the fourteenth year, Roxanne and the kings of those Troll villages came and attacked the Ministry of Troll Magic, including Umbridge (which received a kick in the crotch, then later turned their backs against the 2 kings and the manager), and then British accent trolls came in and tried to settle them down, but they were stopped when the kings kept attacking at their own offices at the Ministry of Troll Magic. Then they turned back, chased, and attacked Dolittle for betraying them in order to save the Ministry from those wrongful attacks. So when it happened, the troll kings (except Dolittle, who had a change of heart and went into Peppy's village) became sinned against Peppy, and not only they have to solve the issue at Cocola, but they have to stop those sins of those kings.

Then the kings of Cocola, Coltrolls and Hogwartia went out and joined together with the unsinned trolls to fight back against the other kings in the Battle of the kings. Against Dolittle, king of Trollhollow, Roxanne, the king of Forks, Danny, the king of Britroll, and Umbridge, worker of the Ministry of Troll Magic - 2 troll kings and a manager against 3 troll kings and a worker.

Now the Valley of the Trolls was full of traps that the 3 trolls put together, so in an instant, both Dolittle and Roxanne fled, and Umbridge fell into the trap, and finally Danny fled into another Troll village to change his heart around. Then the kings of Cocola, Coltrolls, and Hogwartia took all the goods from their Troll villages and then they departed to build new Troll villages, so by the time they left to do so, the old Troll villages were turning into ruined kingdoms and most of the Trolls that are in the ruined villages wished to beg for Peppy to forgive them from the horribleness that Frollo gave to all of the trolls in a village which is Cocola.

Meanwhile, the Snack Pack (including Branch), and Tarzan were traveling to the village of Cocola when suddenly they saw the escaped king who was Danny from Britroll and told Branch for he must join the others so that he can be allied with them. Ultimately, Branch accepted and he became allies. Now when Branch heard that his friend gorilla, Phil had taken captive by the former king of Cocola (Frollo) and hid in a secret place in the same village, he trained the Snack Pack who had been his friends for so long, that he is prepared to make them help the trolls of Cocola to unsin themselves for the king, and then Branch will take care of Frollo. He eventually divided his team in order to take care of every troll of the village, and Branch kept walking to the forest until they finally reached Cocola.

Branch then told the Snack Pack team and Tarzan that they must help those sinned trolls to praise Peppy, while Branch himself will go to the secret hideout where Frollo is and he will stop him to save Phil. So the Snack Pack team and Tarzan the Ape Man eventually followed Branch's plan and Branch searches the village for the secret hideout.

That's when he found the secret hideout, where it looked like a house where Indians used to build as their homes in the Indian culture. Branch then broke in and threatened Frollo that if he does not set Phil free from the dreadful hostage, when he will use the sword of Poppy that he had with him.

Frollo then challenged Branch to fight each other with a sword fight, which then Branch accepted. Then they finally fight with the swords that both Frollo and Branch has and they were shouting insults at each other. Then finally Branch stabbed Frollo in the abdomen with the sword of Poppy and killed him. That is when he finally set Phil free and the gorilla thanked him for the rescue.

While it was happening, the Snack Pack was doing a great job helping to sinned trolls to unsin each other by praising Peppy. After the Snack Pack, Branch, and Tarzan returned to their Troll village, along with all the cleaned trolls from Cocola, Peppy then finally praised Branch and the Snack Pack for the heroicness that he had done in the village and they gave some food to both Branch and Tarzan.

Then Branch finally said to Peppy:

"I also stopped Frollo, the former king of Cocola, because he took hostage of my gorilla friend, Phil. Here, I brought back the sword of Poppy."

"Wow, you did the honor for stopping the traitor ruler of Cocola, so now I will bless you all for this journey." Peppy said.

Then one of the clean trolls of Cocola, Smidge, became the new member of the Snack Pack, and the other clean troll, Anita, became the new priest of Peppy Most High. She blessed Branch, and then said:

"Blessed is Branch of Peppy Most High, who has delivered the trolls from Cocola and brought them to Peppy."

So since the blessing to Branch and to all of the unsinned trolls of Cocola, they have been raving and celebrating when the night came in. The next amazing adventure will be unfolded in the third part of the incredible adventure.

Third Part of the Adventures of Trollesis

CHAPTER XV

In which Tarzan fights with the leopard that killed his parents in this incredible adventure worth reading

The third part unfolds here, right after the heroic rescue of Phil by Branch and the unsining of trolls in Cocola. When the adventure of the last chapter ended well, it became a huge raving party at night.

But when Tarzan went into the jungle of Dawn, Peppy said to him:

"Don't worry about the leopard, Tarzan. For I am your shield out of my hair, your exceedingly great reward."

"I know Peppy, but the leopard is there somewhere and I must get there to kill it. For I will become the immortal leader of the apes." Tarzan replied, "Also, you have hair that can extend. If so, then demonstrate me. After all, you are the heir and creator of Troll village."

Peppy agreed with Tarzan's opinion and then he extends his hair and swung it to a tree branch and he then jumped up and he was hanging onto the branch with his hair. Tarzan was really impressed with the demonstration, saying:

"That is really cool. You really are the creator of the trolls; you really do have cool hair powers." Tarzan said, "But are you sure you can defend me with your hair shield from the leopard. It's dangerous to do so."

"Don't worry, I am Peppy, the creator, who brought you here to protect your ape family, the tree of life, and all of the trolls from the evil sinners of the world, such as hunters, murderers, wizard trolls, witch trolls, sorcerers that can use the forbidden arts against you, or even dangerous animals in the forest and the jungle. Of course I am sure that I can defend you from the leopard." Peppy said proudly.

"Well then, how shall I know that I will kill the leopard?" Tarzan said.

“Well Tarzan, to kill the leopard, you must equip your spear and bring it with you when you encounter the leopard in sight of the Jungle, and not only that, but your troll friends, a three year old goat that is wise for you, a three year old ram that can heal and protect you like me, a turtledove, and a young pigeon that will send news to storks and other trolls that are my angels of the Troll village.” Peppy replied.

Then Peppy gave Tarzan those animals to him and they followed Tarzan on his way to grab the spear with him. And then in his own arena, he placed the animals on the north side of the arena so they are protected from the dreadful claws of the leopard. But venomous vultures came in to attempt killing the animals, but Tarzan and Branch (whom apparently followed Tarzan) drove the vultures away with his spear.

But Terk broke in and started to play with Tarzan to do a game with him, and eventually Tarzan did what Terk was doing, and that’s when Branch put his face down with his palm, meaning that it wasn’t in the plan that Peppy wanted to do for Tarzan. Eventually Terk gave up when Tarzan was holding tight to the gorilla’s arms and that’s when he let go of Terk. Tantor then came in and said:

“Hi Tarzan, and Terk. The thing is, I do think that Tarzan belongs to a species of elephants.”

“What? What do you think that Tarzan is elephant specie?” Terk replied.

“He enjoys a peanut, and I do as well, not only that, he is eternally immortal for that elephant hair dare in the waterfall.” Terk said.

“He looks nothing like an elephant, and I know about the waterfall challenge, he almost got killed-“

But before Terk finished her sentence, the leopard suddenly breaks in and ran fast to Terk and Tantor, but Tarzan, fearing that he would lose his friends from the jaws of the leopard, he furiously smashes the leopard to the stomach. When it happened, the trolls suddenly heard the noise and came into the arena in the jungle, and that’s where they saw the event involving the leopard (Sabor) against Tarzan the ape man.

Then Tarzan climbed to the highest tree and while he was doing that, the leopard came rushing onto the tree and jumps on Tarzan and the spear, and the tip of the spear broke off and fell onto the center of the arena. The animals that Peppy gave to Tarzan in the north side of the arena were very frightened that they were going to get eaten by the leopard. Peppy then extends his hair, along with all the other trolls as well to whip the leopard, and when it hit the leopard, which let out a loud screech.

Then Tarzan forces the leopard off the tree and the spear that Tarzan was holding and the leopard fell onto the ground in the center of the arena. The leopard then noticed the little scratch and then it roared at Tarzan. Tarzan roared back at Sabor and then he hid himself in the tree's hard vines and he was protected against the leopard. But the leopard breaks into the vines ferociously and Tarzan was indeed much trapped inside the hard vines. This is where he must grab the tip of the spear on the center of the arena outside of the hard vines. Then Tarzan grabbed a big chunk of a solid rock and forcedly stabbed it against the leopard's paw, which then it was stuck on the tree. Tarzan then comes out of the vines and rushes down to grab the tip of the spear. The leopard then freed its paw from the big rock in the tree, and then climbs and runs toward Tarzan. Tarzan then finally grabbed the tip of the spear. But before he even started attacking with the spear, the leopard fatally smashes into Tarzan, creating a big hole.

But as the leopard almost got his rival, Tarzan then stabbed its stomach very hard, killing it instantly.

All of the trolls (including Branch and Peppy), the gorillas and the apes were looking in confusion on what happened to Tarzan, and then they finally saw Tarzan grabbing the leopard's carcass and dropped it on the hard solid ground of the arena.

All of the trolls and the gorillas were cheering loudly at Tarzan for killing Sabor in victorious, even Kala, his ape mother. Then Tarzan grabbed and held on the leopard's carcass and loudly called his signature call to everyone.

Then he came to Peppy and dropped the carcass in front of him and he thanked Peppy for helping him to whip Sabor. Branch then said to Tarzan: "Know certainly that the Snack Pack, all of the other trolls, Peppy himself, the gorillas and your ape family will thank you for this brave event, but if you do spot strangers in the other side of the land that is not theirs, then show us the strangers, and will serve them, and they will change their lives with us for the near future with you and us. And also the village of ours whom we serve and the nation of the strangers whom they serve to others, I will judge them if they are innocent or sinful against us. Afterward they shall come out with great passions. Now as for you Tarzan, Terk, and Tantor, and all of us, we shall go back to our Troll village to celebrate Tarzan's bravery in peace, and the mortals that are not blessed like hunters will be buried in a good age. But in the fourth generations of trolls, humans, and bergens, they shall return here, for the iniquity of the Poppyium is not complete."

After the great speech that Branch said, Tarzan and the trolls returned back to the village, then celebrated and rave for the bravery of the ape man, that behold, there appeared a sacred trophy for Tarzan (full of glitter and sparkles), a brand new spear, and a never used burning torch that has passed to Tarzan by the Snack Pack.

On the same day, Peppy made a great, yet humorous covenant with Branch, saying:

"To your friends and sons, I have given this village, the forest and the jungle, from the river of Hogdwellium, to the great river of our world, Poppyium. And you shall go on, as the greatest ruler next to me in our entire world."

CHAPTER XVI

In which Cho, a gorilla maid to Ray Charles, gave birth to a gorilla baby, and a stork gave her some funny advice in this stupendous event

Now Ray Charles, Branch's friend and companion that he had never been in the Snack Pack, had borne himself no troll child of his own in his home, and he had a gorilla maidservant whose name is Cho.

"See now, Peppy has restrained me from bearing troll children or my own troll or gorilla child in my home." Ray said to Branch, "Please, go to my gorilla maid; perhaps I shall allow to obtain the child by her."

Then Ray, Branch's friend, took Cho her maid, a gorilla, and gave her to Branch to be his second gorilla friend, after Branch had dwell with his first gorilla friend, Phil, in his village. So Branch went in to Cho, and that is where this unexpectedly stupendous event came into fruition, Cho then accidentally conceived her gorilla baby (which speculates that Cho was pregnant after he divorced his old ex-gorilla husband, Collin.)

But when Cho saw that she accidentally conceived a gorilla baby of her own, Cho became shocked, sad, and happy in her eyes. Ray was really shocked a lot more and then he said to Branch:

"What the, my wrong be upon you! I gave you Cho into your embrace to allow my own troll child of my own, but when Cho saw that she indeed purposely conceived a baby gorilla, I really became despised in my own eyes. Peppy judges between me and you."

"First of all, didn't you know that Peppy knows that birth of baby gorillas are allowed, and second, the maid gorilla is in your hand; and you can do to her as you please." Branch said.

And that's when Ray dealt harshly with Cho, the gorilla maid then fled from her presence like a mad gorilla when a stork from Peppy came.

Now the stork of Peppy found her in the clear spring water on the side of Poppyium, by the spring on the way to the Jungle of Dawn. The stork's name is Junior, and was acquired by Peppy to do its duty for him to comfort, deliver, or help those who are either sinned or they want to fight for justice for their village. Junior then said: "Cho, Ray Charles's gorilla maid, where have you come from and where are you going?"

"I am from the Jungle of Dawn and I am fleeing from the presence of that despicable troll, Ray!" Cho said angrily.

"I have a solution that I can fix for both of you and Ray, you must return to the troll, and submit yourself under the troll's 4 finger hand. I will multiply your gorilla friends exceedingly by my stork MAGIC, so that they should not be counted for multitude. Behold, you are with a gorilla child, and you shall bear a son of your own. You shall call his name Glade, because Peppy has heard your affliction and praised it. He shall be a wild gorilla and a funny one; his hand shall be against every sinful troll or gorilla, and every troll or gorilla's hand against him. And he shall dwell in the presence of all his brethren." Junior replied.

Then Cho called the name of Peppy who spoke to the gorilla maid herself. You-Are-the-Peppy-Who-Sees; for she said:

"Have I also have seen him who sees me?"

Therefore the well was called The Gorilla and Troll Society; observe; and it is between Britroll and the Ministry of Troll Magic. So Cho bore Branch (the ruler next to Peppy) a son, and Branch named his son, whom Cho bore, Glade. Branch was six hundred and thirty years old when Cho bore Glade to Branch.

CHAPTER XVII

In which Branch gave himself a new nickname, while talking to Peppy in this amusing conversation

When Branch's new son Glade was embraced to the world by Cho, Ray Charles's former gorilla maid, Peppy appeared to Branch and said to him: "So Branch, as you know, I am the almighty Peppy and walk before me, then you will be blameless, after all, you are the ruler next to me in our village. And I will make my covenant between me and you again, and then you will multiply exceedingly. This is the second walk that we have ever done, and we always do this annually after every thirty years."

Then Branch bowed down to Peppy and said:

"As for me, behold, my amusing covenant will always be with you, and you shall be a father of many Troll villages around the world. And not only that, I have a new nickname for myself, and it is 'Abraham', for I have made you a father of all of those Troll villages. So I will make you exceedingly fruitful for your village, and I will make Troll villages after you and kings shall come from you. And I will still establish my covenant between me and you and your friends and sons in their generations, for an everlasting covenant, to be Peppy to you and your friends and sons as well. Also I give to you and your friends and sons the land which there are strangers, all the land of this village and Cocola, as an everlasting possession; and I will always be with you, Peppy, either as a squire or as a chosen one."

"As for you, you shall keep my covenant, you and your friends and sons will be here forever throughout the generations." Peppy replied to "Abraham" Branch, "This is my covenant which you shall keep, between me and you and your friends and sons: every male child troll among you shall be circumcised. And you shall be circumcised in the flesh of your troll foreskins, and it shall be a sign of that covenant between me and you. He who is eight days old among you shall be circumcised, every male child troll in your generations, he who is born in your house or bought with troll money from any foreigner who is not your friend, nor your son at all. He who is born in your house and he who is brought with your troll money must be circumcised, and my covenant shall be in your troll flesh for an everlasting covenant. And the uncircumcised male troll child, who is not circumcised in the flesh of the troll child's foreskin, that troll child shall be cut off from the trolls; he has broken my covenant. As Ray Charles one of your friends, you shall not call him Ray Charles, but Ray shall be his name. And I will bless him and also give you a son by Cho; then I will bless Cho as well, and Cho shall be a mother of Troll villages; kings of trolls shall be from her."

Then "Abraham" Branch fell on his face and hysterically laughed, while saying in his heart:

"Shall a troll child be born to a man who is one hundred years old? And shall Ray, who is ninety years old, able to adopt a troll child of his own? Oh, that Glade might live before you as well! Like Tarzan, the king of the forest and the jungle!"

"No, Ray your friend shall bring you a son, and you shall call his name "Isaac" Gladious." Peppy replied happily, "I will establish my covenant with him for an everlasting covenant and with his friends after him. And as for Glade, I have heard you. Behold, I have blessed him, and will make him fruitful, and will multiply him exceedingly as well. He shall beget twelve animal princes of the forest of Dawn, and I will make him a great village. But my covenant I will establish with "Isaac" Gladious, whom Cho shall bear to you at this set time next year in the Troll village, and right at my house."

Then he finished talking with him, and Peppy went up from “Abraham” Branch. So “Abraham” Branch took Glade his new son, all who were born in his house and all who were bought with his troll money, every male troll among the trolls of Branch’s house, and circumcised the flesh of their troll foreskins that very same day, as Peppy said to him.

“Abraham” Branch (that is his nickname, but if you call him just Branch, then you can) was six hundred and thirty three years when he was circumcised in the flesh of his troll foreskin. And Glade his new son of the others was thirteen years old when he was finally circumcised in the flesh of his troll foreskin as well. That very same day, “Abraham” Branch was circumcised, and one of his new sons Glade;

And all of his friends, sons, families, and the other trolls were in his houses, and the other new troll babies were born in the house or bought with troll money from a foreigner, were circumcised with them. Though Branch had a pretty good day, the next event when a stranger was chased by a bunch of baboons happened on the very next day.

CHAPTER XVIII

In which Tarzan and the Snack Pack saw other humans, then saves Jane from a pack a baboons in this crazy adventure

Peppy appeared in the trees alongside with Tarzan and the Snack Pack in the forest of Dawn, as they were enjoying the view of the Jungle in a very nice day. Tarzan then lifted his eyes and looked, and behold, Peppy was beside him looking happy and calm; and he was very happy to see him.

“Peppy, if I have now found favor in your sight and my sight, will I ever notice a stranger in the far side of the jungle.” Tarzan said to Peppy, “The strangers would bring a little bit of water and then they would wash their feet since they do not have bathtubs, or they would even wash in the waterfall, and then they would even rest themselves in the jungle floor. Then I will bring some pieces of bread to the stranger, and that may refresh their hearts. After that they may do an exploration of the Jungle and the villages.”

Then unexpectedly, they all heard the noise of a rifle in the distance of the jungle.

“I should check out and inspect what that noise came from, Peppy.” Tarzan said.

"That is a great idea, their maybe a stranger in the jungle near the bamboo sticks in the distance." Peppy replied, "Go ahead and check it out, after all, you are the blessed king of the jungle."

Tarzan and the Snack Pack trolls then left from the trees (but before it happened, Tarzan placed the Snack Pack in the transparent bag he made, and it is not made out of plastic, but solid rock with big homemade windows he constructed with Terk), then Tarzan swings on the vines to go toward the bamboo sticks and there, they noticed something.

Tarzan saw a bullet in between the broken and shot down bamboo sticks and licked it, but stucked out his tongue out when it tasted like metal. Then he heard the noise again and sneakily walked towards beside the bamboo sticks and green leafs, he then saw the shadow of a stranger. A human to be precised, a hunter by the name of John Clayton.

Clayton was a hunter that came to the land that he was in for the exploration of the gorillas in the jungle of Dawn, alongside Jane Porter and her father.

"We must see those gorillas or else the boat will leave in a couple of days, and it is necessary to see them right now!" Clayton shouted.

Jane's father, Professor Archimedes Q. Porter, came out of the bamboo path and he was an old man with a white hair and a cap, alongside the jungle exploration clothes he was wearing for the expedition of the jungle.

"Of course we will see the gorillas; after all, we know everything about wild animals in a jungle like this, because this land is like Africa." Porter said.

"That makes no sense, I know that we know everything about wild animals, but how does this land be like Africa, instead of India." Clayton said, "You must have lost senses on the history geography, old man."

Then Jane came out of the path and she was a beautiful woman with a nice yellow dress, and a great personality with knowing all the animals' names and species.

"Don't say something bad about my father, he knows most of the history about animal species and this land does indeed look like Africa." Jane said, "But you are doing a good job leading us to this expedition, Clayton."

“Why thank you for that, Jane.” Clayton replied, “We all know the species of ape and gorilla-”

Before he finished a sentence, Clayton hears another unexpected noise, then he sliced the bamboo sticks in half and pointed his rifle straight to the scattered leafs where he noticed the noise.

“What are you doing, that must be a gorilla, Mr. Clayton.” Jane said.

“It’s no gorilla.” Clayton replied.

Clayton and Porter then continued to walk into the jungle, while Jane was intrigued when she saw a baby baboon eating a fruit. Jane was excited to see the baby baboon that he tried telling her father about it, and then she drew a picture of it.

“You may not be a gorilla, but you are a cute-”

That’s when she noticed the baboon disappeared and climbed onto Jane’s shoulders to see the drawn sketch. The baboon actually liked it and in an instant, it grabbed the sketch and ran, making Jane chase after the baboon for it.

“Can you give that sketch back to me, please?” Jane said.

The baboon then refused to do so and hugged the sketch heartily.

Jane had a great idea, so she then said:

“There’s bananas!”

Then, as the baby baboon looked around the direction that she was pointing, Jane then snatched the sketch from the baby baboon, before it started to cry.

“Come on now, don’t give me those crocodile tears, what would your parents have to say?” Jane said.

Then, after she said it, there was a ferocious noise of the screeching adult baboons, and she instantly looked behind. Tons of adult baboons were starting to come towards her. Jane then tripped from a small vine on the ground, before the baboons started raining down onto her, making her run very fast.

Tarzan then saw the running Jane with the baboons right behind her, so he swings into the vines to rescue her. While Jane was running fast, she saw the huge hole coming towards her; she had no choice but to jump. When she jumped, Tarzan grabbed her, so it looked like she was flying in mid air.

"What on earth? I'm flying. How on--"

Jane then saw Tarzan grabbing her before finishing the sentence, and then she let out a girlish scream. Jane then looked down and saw one of the baboons biting on her boot and she smacks the baboon very hard with her umbrella, then the baboon fell while chewing the boot. Then both Jane and Tarzan reached the tallest tree and landed there.

"Put me down! Put, me, down!!!" Jane yelled.

Tarzan then let Jane go, which was her biggest regret, because she then saw a whole crowd of baboons coming after her.

"Pick me up! Pick me up!" Jane shouted.

Both Tarzan and Jane plunged down and started swinging on the trees that are covered with vines and moss, and she was whining uncontrollably. Jane then saw more baboons coming straight to her, and she climbed on top of Tarzan to open her umbrella and then the baboons went flying when the umbrella was opened. Jane then laughed very happily.

But unfortunately, another baboon grabbed the umbrella that Jane was holding and she started struggled to let the baboon go, accidentally hitting Tarzan in the jaw hard. The baboon fell from the umbrella, and Jane thought it was all done. But another unfortunate luck happened, the umbrella's hook then grabbed the vine and Jane flew out of Tarzan very fast, where she was hanging on the vine.

"Wait, what about the stranger!" Cooper shouted, "You must save her, she's on the vine and the baboons will get her if you don't get her!"

Tarzan then looked behind and noticed that the baboons is coming towards Jane on that vine that she is hanging on, and then Tarzan came rushing fast to grab her by her foot. They were swinging back again, and the baboons (along with the baby baboon) smashed into a huge tree branch. Then they reached an old huge log and they landed on the edges of it (which made Tarzan felt uncomfortable on his legs).

Jane then pointed at the baboons for Tarzan, and at that moment he saw the raging baboons coming at them, they both then plunged into the old log, which began to break unfortunately. The baboons then started to follow them both into the old tree log, and it started to break very quickly, just as Tarzan and Jane were inside, trying to escape.

Then the log broke in half, making Tarzan and Jane fall off, along with the baboons (and the tree log broke with the baboons inside it as well). Jane then let out a painful scream that made Tarzan get a headache, and the Snack Pack inside of his homemade bag covered their ears from Jane's scream. That is when Tarzan grabbed the vine with his hand, and swung back to a tree.

The old broken tree log suddenly started to collapse and smashing the large branches of the tree and they both (along with the Snack Pack) were going down to other branches of the tree and they protected themselves on the last branch on the face of the tree. The log then smashed the last branch, but not both Tarzan and Jane, and then it smashes to the ground, along with the baboons.

The baby baboon and the adult baboon then started to chatter at Tarzan, and that is where he responded by grabbing the sketch from Jane and gave it to the baby baboon.

Then Tarzan looked to Jane, but she was gone, and that was because she was trying to climb to the other tree, but she was trapped in between.

"It couldn't get any worse, can it?" Jane said.

But then, it started to rain at her unexpectedly.

"Obviously it can." Jane said ironically.

Jane then looked down and there she saw Tarzan, looking at her, which made her scream again. The astounding moment made Jane throw her arms around which then Tarzan pushed Jane onto the other tree, which then he followed as well.

At the end of that crazy and stupendous adventure that had followed, Tarzan and Jane comfort to each other and he tried to learn English through Jane.

"I will certainly return to your camp, according to the time of life, and behold, Cho also has a son for me named Gland." Tarzan said (Cho was listening close to the far distances of the jungle, wanting to understand of what Tarzan was saying to a stranger.)

CHAPTER XIX

In which the stupendously amusing talk to Peppy from Branch happens after Tarzan's heroic rescue of Jane from the barbarous baboons

After the adventure that happened with Tarzan and Jane, as they looked at their faces, they were born as an adult and not old, and they are well advanced in age; and Cho herself passed the age of troll childbearing. In the tree, Jane laughed and said to Tarzan:

"After I have grown beautiful, I shall have pleasure in the camp with you, Tarzan. My king (or lord) being old as well?"

Then Peppy appeared and she noticed that it was a troll.

"Why did you laugh, Jane?" Peppy said happily, "Saying that 'Cho bearing a son name Gland, since I am old? Is anything too hard for me, Peppy? At that appointed time for you stranger, Tarzan will return to your camp, so that the two other strangers reunites with you."

"I did not really laugh a lot, but a little bit." Jane said.

"That is alright for laughing; laughing is (of course) the language of happiness." Peppy said.

Then Tarzan (with the Snack Pack), took Jane and swings her back to the Jungle, where there is a path that she will be returned to their camp (that is a little far from the Troll village). Then Peppy came to Terk in the jungle and said:

"I have two things to say, Terk. One, shall I hide from Jane's camp what I am doing? I mean, the camp might be a great place for research of animals and not a secret place for kidnapping animals. For have I known strangers like Jane, in order that Tarzan may command his gorillas, and the apes after him, that they keep the way for me, to do righteousness and justice, that I must bring myself and Tarzan about the strangers. And two, because the outcry of the ruined Troll villages and the bad Troll kings is great, and because their sin is very despicable, that it is very grave. I will go down later and see whether they have done altogether while Tarzan sees Jane like most of the trolls he befriended, my visit will be important according to the outcry against it that has come down to me, and if not, I will know myself."

"The camp, I should check it out with you Peppy, and you also should go down against the ruined Troll villages and bad kings of those villages." Terk said.

Then Terk went back into the jungle of Dawn to have fun with Tantor, but "Abraham" Branch stood aside Peppy.

"Would you also destroy the wrongful baddies with your powers, along with the wicked?" "Abraham" Branch said, "Suppose there were fifty wrongful within the other Troll villages or in other parts of the forest and jungle of Dawn; would you also destroy the wicked and spare for those fifty wrongful that were in it? Far be it from you, my lord, to do such as the rightfulness that you give to me and to the other trolls, but to also rightfully slay the wickedness; so that the wrongful should be as the wicked; far be it from you. Shall not be the judge of all the worlds do right?"

"If I find in those ruined Troll villages fifty wrongful within those villages, them I will spare all of the places for their sakes." Peppy said.

"Indeed now, I who am but the ones that are bad Troll kings of the ruined villages are indeed dust and ashes that has been taken upon myself to speak to Peppy, which is you." "Abraham" Branch replied, "Suppose there were five less than the fifty wrongful; and would you destroy all of the ruined Troll villages for lack of five? If I find there forty-five, I will not destroy it though."

"Suppose they should be forty found here?" "Abraham" Branch continued, "I will not do it for the sake of those ridiculous forty."

"Let not Peppy be angry, and I will speak; suppose thirty should be found here?" "Abraham" Branch continued ironically, "I will not do it either for that dumpy diapering thirty here."

"Indeed now, I have taken it upon myself to speak to Peppy himself; also suppose twenty should also be found there?" "Abraham" Branch continued even more ironically, "I will not even dirty diapering fling making shoe dropping foot grabbing troll shopping princess punching destroy it for the sake of twenty."

"Let not Peppy be angry again, since I am a leader next to you, and I will but once more: suppose ten should be found there as well?" "Abraham" Branch finally said a lot more ironically, "I will not even dirty diapering fling making shoe dropping foot grabbing troll shopping princess punching bird flying troll kissing destroy it for the sake of ten."

Peppy, seeing that Branch is being ironic, smacks him on the head with his staff and they went back to their throne, back at their normal and happy state after he had finished speaking in his ironings to Peppy.

CHAPTER XX

In which Phil, Michael, and Bridgette attacked against the wickedness at the Ministry of Troll Magic, and other events worthy of remembering Peppy's two new angels came to the Ministry of Troll Magic in Hogdwellium (which names are Michael Green and Bridgette West), and Phil was at the phone booth at the left side of the building. When Phil seen them, he rose to meet them, and then he bowed himself along with his own ape face down towards the ground.

"Here now, my kings, please turn in to the Ministry and spend the night, and wash your feet; then you may rise early and go on the way back to Peppy." Phil said.

"We're alright; we will only spend the night in one of the offices of the Ministry of Troll Magic." Michael said.

But Phil insisted strongly with his giant hands; so they turned in to him and entered the Ministry. Then he made them a delicious feast, and baked scrumptious garlic bread, and they ate. But before they lay down, the wizard trolls, the witch trolls, and the bad Troll kings of the ruined villages, surrounded one of the rooms of the Ministry, where Phil and the two angels were staying at.

"Where are the angels that came to you tonight?" One of them said, "Bring them out to us so they can be with our wicked witch or you will be cursed with our witchcraft, you dumb gorilla!"

So Phil went out to them through the Ministry's doorway, and then he shut the door behind.

"Please, you despicable witchcraft loving trolls! Do not do so wickedly to them or else I will call Peppy down and he will smite you all!" Phil said angrily, "And I am friends with my other gorillas so they might get you if I call them on you all as well! But if you let me bring those two angels out, you do not bring or even touch them as well; only do nothing to these angels, since this is the reason they have come under the shadow of the Ministry."

"Stand back, you buffoons!" Bridgette said, "This one came in here to stay in the Ministry, and he is the kindest, and the sweetest gorilla I will ever know. So we will deal with all of you witchcraft trolls, than with Phil."

So they pulled Phil inside, then they forcedly pushed the entire witch and wizard trolls out of the Ministry, then all of those trolls came near to break the main door down. But then, a half-giant smashed all of those trolls who attempted to break into the Ministry. Phil then noticed it, and brought the half-giant inside the Ministry as well.

The gorilla then pulled off the alarm in the Ministry and it unleashed an abundance of security weapons against the trolls that work for their wicked witch, Maleficent. Then the angels struck the trolls who were trying to break in with blindness, both small and great, so that they became very weary trying to get in.

"Have you anyone else have?" One of the wicked trolls said, "Gorilla-in-law, your gorilla sons, and your gorilla daughters, and whomever you have in this building, we will get them to join our wicked witch! For we will destroy the Ministry, because the outcry against the kings of those we came from and our villages that are ruined by Peppy and those who abandoned our villages has grown great before our wicked witch wanted us to get you all in front of our faces!"

"I'll never join you all for the sinful devil witch!" Phil said in rage.

Then he tells his gorilla friends, sons, daughters that they must get out or else they will get fried like boneless chicken wings.

"Alright, take your sons, daughters, and your friends out of the back of the Ministry, so they will not get you for their wicked witch." Bridgette said.

And when he lingered, the angels took hold of Phil's hand, then the half-giant, then all of his friends' hand, and finally his sons and daughters hands as well, so that they will not be seen under the dark and haunting eyes of the evil wicked witch, and then they finally ran out of the city.

When they had brought Phil, and his friends and sons and daughters, and then the half-giant out of the Ministry and then out of the Troll city.

"Escape for your gorilla faith! And do not look behind to see those despicable witchcraft loving trolls nor stay anywhere in the riverheads like Poppyium." Michael said, "Escape to Peppy's village, and you will not die from the consequences of the witch and wizard trolls in Hogdwellium."

"Thank you for the escape, I could not have done it without you." Phil said, "Indeed now, Peppy has found favor in your sight, and you have increased the strongness of you brave angels, but the good thing is that I do not want go back to Hogdwellium ever again, lest that those trolls will get me, then they will take me to that wicked despicable witch, and then evil will overtake my life, and then if I do that, I rather die for Peppy than to that dreadful witch! See now, Peppy's village and the forest and jungle of Dawn is near enough to flee in, and it's a big one (and very happy to be precise); that is the best suggestion for that escape plan, and that's how my soul shall live forever."

"See, I really did have favored you concerning that thing as well." Michael said, "I will never overthrow Hogdwellium, from which you have escaped. Hurry, get to the village. For I cannot do anything until I reach to the village as well."

Therefore they finally reached to Peppy's village. The sun had finally risen upon the world when Phil finally returned back to Peppy's troll village.

Then Peppy rained the judge of brimstone and fire to the town of Hogdwellium (part of it, for the sake of killing the witch and wizard trolls where the Ministry is, and Peppy himself is protecting the Ministry from the wrongful attacks). So then, he overthrew the evil trolls back to their wicked witch and it brought back silence in the middle of the city (where the Ministry is).

But Phil's wife looked back behind him, but she could not do it entirely because she would be turned into chicken or a pillar of salt.

And "Abraham" Branch went early in the morning to the front of Hogdwellium, where Peppy is at. Then he looked toward Hogdwellium, and he saw, and behold, the smoke and debris at the front of the Ministry was visible to every troll's eyes. And it came to pass, when Peppy threw the fires and brimstones to the witchcraft workers of the wicked witch back to their leader, Maleficent. "Abraham" Branch still remembered Peppy, and sent Phil back to his village to dwell in there.

"What is your name, half-giant?" Phil said.

"I am Hagrid, keeper of the keys at the grounds of the forest of Dawn." The half-giant said.

So Hagrid came in peace with all the other trolls, which then became so friendly and peaceful to the half-giant, while Phil dwells in his previous spot in the edge of Peppy's troll village (where he did dwell before he was captured by Frolo, the king of Cocola); and his daughters, wife, and friends were with him; for he was afraid that the evil trolls would come back and kill, cook, and eat him like fresh meat.

"Our gorilla father is great, but there is no other gorilla or troll that could take us for an adventure." The younger gorilla said, "Come, let us make our first adventure and drink fresh water in the waterfall, and we will seek further into the forest and jungle of Dawn, and then after, we will lie down with Phil in the beautiful sky.”

So Phil’s gorilla children created their first adventure in the forests and Jungle across Peppy’s village, and they found some dangers along the way, but they survived. Then later, they finally lay down with Phil and looked at the sky in peace. It happened on the next day (where Peppy and the gorilla crew, including Terk, are going to see the camping site where Jane, Porter, and Clayton are camping at).

“Indeed I did lay with Phil last night and looked at the stars; but let’s make another adventure again tonight and we will go in and lie with him again, that we may preserve the greatness, companionship, and the lineage of our gorilla father.” The other younger gorilla said.

Then they made their second adventure at the night (while Peppy, and the gorilla crew were going across from the forest of Dawn to the camping site), and they lay with Phil again and looked at the stars again, but Phil did not know when their children was laying with him, nor arose in the morning. Thus the gorilla daughters of Phil were with their other gorilla children by their father. The firstborn bore a son and called his name Charles; he is the father of the Angry Gorilla Grandpa (that later happened when his gorilla wife got pregnant again) to this day. And the younger gorilla; she also bore a son, and called his name Hal; he is the father of the people of Summervillia to this day.

CHAPTER XXI

In which the gorilla crew, Peppy, and Branch visits the camping site and started to have crazy fun

Peppy, “Abraham” Branch, and the Gorilla crew came to the Camping site of Jane, her father, and Clayton, along with Tantor. But when Tantor saw the view of the camping site, he was horrified when he saw objects that were not like the ones in the jungle (including clocks, teacups, and even typewriters).

"THE HORROR! IT'S GRUESOME! HIDE ME!" Tantor shouted in terror.

"Stop that, Tantor." Terk said, "You are embarrassing me, besides they are not alive."

"Are you sure that Tarzan and Jane is coming back?" Branch said.

Then he sent the king along with the gorillas and Tantor, while he looked and walked around at the camping site.

"Indeed you are a righteous troll because of the way that Tarzan does nice things to strangers like Jane, for Jane is an explorer." Peppy said in Branch's thoughts.

But "Abraham" Branch had not come near Jane since he saw her in the huge tree, along with Tarzan.

"Peppy, will you bring miracles to the ape man and the stranger also? Did he not say to me, 'That Tarzan and Jane are coming back to this site.'? And they, even Tarzan said to Jane, 'I will bring you back to the camping site.' In the integrity of my or Tarzan's heart and innocence of his and Jane's hands, they have both brought me to this site for interesting reasons." Branch said in his mind.

"Yes, I know what Tarzan did it with Jane for the integrity of you or Tarzan's heart. For I also will still help you from the evil trolls like the witchcraft lovers, or the evil wicked witch herself sinning you for me; therefore I will make miracles to Tarzan and Jane. Now therefore, see what me or the gorillas are doing; for they are explorers like Jane, his father, and Clayton themselves, and I and the gorillas, along with the other trolls will pray for you and you shall bring the strangers into our village in harmony and peace, and they will also make you the best leader like me. But if you do not bring the strangers, that is okay and if the evil wicked witch comes back, you must stop her from the forces of evil like Voldemorex." Peppy responded in Branch's mind.

So "Abraham" Branch came to see Peppy and the gorilla crew, in order to know what they are doing for interesting reasons. Terk is intrigued and entertained by the typewriter, so then he called on the other gorillas to see the typewriter, and they are entertained as well. Then the other gorilla started to break every dish once to go along with the typewriter, and it started to make a little musical rhyme in the site, and they kept going fast with all the other stuff in the camping site. Tantor started to play the trumpet-like record speaker and then it all started for the gorillas to trashing the camp.

Terk then started to scat as all of the gorillas were demolishing and breaking stuff around the camp and they were having fun, in an upbeat fashion in the camp. They then started slamming the hard wooden objects, pots, pans, and even other items on the ground to make a stomping interlude to their music. Then shortly, the camp was demolished completely while Peppy and "Abraham" Branch were having fun with the gorillas in the camp.

Then Tarzan and Jane came into the camp to see the wrecked view of the site, but she was amazed to see the gorillas, and came closer. Terk then came to Tarzan and started to play along.

"He is one of their kinds, just like I belong to my own father, a professor." Jane said.

Then Terk came close to see Jane and she was so happy to see a gorilla closer, for that the gorillas are social creatures once they get to know them in their land. Then suddenly, before Terk even come closer to Jane, a gorilla snorted behind her and she looked behind.

The gorilla, Kerchak (The now formal leader of Sabora, whom came back to work with the gorillas again) was behind Jane.

"Oh my." Jane said in silence.

Kerchak, thinking that she is posing a threat, then ferociously roared at her, scaring Jane so much that she ducked very quickly. She was panicking a lot in her breath, as Kerchak was looking directly at her. Jane then grabbed a big kitchen spoon and shoved it high at Kerchak's face, as the gorilla looked at the spoon in inspection. The gorilla then roared (meaning that they must go back to their jungle in peace from the humans), and Kala grabbed Tarzan's hand softly and walked back to the Jungle of Dawn.

Then Clayton and Jane's father called her name and came into the site, looking shocked to see their site ruined.

Meanwhile, at the Jungle of Dawn.

"We must stay away from humans as much as we could." Kerchak said.

"They mean us no harm, Kerchak." Tarzan responded.

"Are you willing to protect us from humans, because I am the gorilla leader, but you are the blessed king of the jungle!" Kerchak said.

"Why are you threatened by someone different than you!" Tarzan shouted.

Then Kerchak looked at him furiously, and said:

"You must protect this family, and stay away from them!"

Tarzan then started walking out of the jungle in anger, before Kala started talking to him.

"Please listen to Kerchak for once." Kala said quietly.

"Why didn't you tell me that there were strangers that looked like me!" Tarzan said.

Then Tarzan left from the jungle in order to return to the camping site, right after he said it to Kala.

"What have you done to us? How have I offended you, Tarzan, or even Peppy, which you have brought on me and on my old kingdom a great sin? You have done deeds to me before that ought not to be done." Kerchak said to Branch, "What did you have to in view, that you have done this ridiculous thing?"

"I never have done that." Branch replied, "But Peppy have done it because he is my personal and trustful leader, and I thought, surely the fear of Peppy to you is not in this place; and they will kill a bad sinner like the wicked witch or those witchcraft trolls on account for the world. But indeed the world, all of the trolls and gorillas, even Tarzan and Jane, is truly the most important part of this world. Tarzan is of course the blessed king of the jungle, and Jane is probably Tarzan's love interest. And it did come to pass when Peppy might have cursed you to be grumpy and rogue, but trustful for the gorillas. But you might really have been cursed when you have exiled from Sabora, and that is where you reunited with the gorillas. Remember, Peppy is my trustful leader of his village, and you Kerchak, must be protectful in case of evilness or hunters around the world."

Kerchak then accepted "Abraham" Branch's speech to him, and gave a token (which is a special gem) to "Abraham" Branch and that is where he became allies to Kerchak.

"See, my jungle is before you; dwell back in the village where it pleases you." Kerchak said.

After that, Branch came back to Peppy for some outstanding news.

"I have done well to Kerchak, Peppy." Branch said, "And I have given to you the gem of everlasting love; indeed this vindicates me and you, Peppy, before all who are with you, and before everybody in our village."

After Branch said the news, Peppy was pleased and surprised with "Abraham" Branch's peaceful speech to Kerchak, the former leader of Sabora and now the second new leader of the gorillas. For "Abraham" Branch had indeed prayed to Peppy for everlasting love, and then finally Peppy gave bravery, authority, and peace to Kerchak, the gorilla tribe, and even secretly, Tarzan, the ape man himself. Then Kala, Kerchak's wife, bore a gorilla child of her own, next to Tarzan.

Peppy had closed up all the wombs of Kerchak's past from his ruined life at Sabora, but as it was over for Kerchak, two of the Snack Pack trolls started sneakily follow Tarzan back to the camping site, which they are DJ Suki and Cooper.

CHAPTER XXII

In which Branch and Peppy did great things, then two trolls and Tarzan came to see Jane and the crew in this outstanding event worthwhile reading

Later, Peppy visited Kerchak as what "Abraham" Branch gave to him and what he did for Kerchak as he had thought about it in his peaceful mind.

For Kerchak, he helped raised the gorilla child that Kala had bore, and he named the gorilla child, Langdon, as in his well advanced age, at the set time of which Peppy had then spoken to him.

The reason why Kerchak called his child Langdon, that is because "Abraham" Branch suggested the name before he left to see Peppy to say the good news to him, while he called his own child's name, "Isaac" Gladious, which is the name that Ray (his friend) suggested to him.

Then "Abraham" Branch had circumcised his son "Isaac" Gladious when he was eight days old in Peppy's troll village.

Now "Abraham" Branch was six hundred and fifty years old when his son "Isaac" Gladious was born to him by Ray Charles.

"Peppy had really made me laugh like a hyena from a pride land, and all who hear will laugh with me like a pack of hyenas as well. Who would have said to "Abraham" Branch that Ray would nurse troll children or "gorilla" child by my gorilla maid Cho? For I did indeed borne him a gorilla child to a troll, whose ruler next to him is Peppy, in his well advanced and beautifully grown age." Ray said.

So the gorilla child grew and was weaned. And "Abraham" Branch made a delicious feast in the night, along with his other sons (William, Bill, and Andy), along with his new son (a gorilla to be precise), "Isaac" Gladious, on the same day that the same gorilla child was weaned. And Ray saw the son of Cho the gorilla maid, whom she had borne to Branch, was started to feel happy for giving him a new son.

Therefore Cho said to "Abraham" Branch, "Cast in my maid inside the house, and she will be blessed for the birth of "Isaac" Gladious." And the matter was very pleasing for "Abraham" Branch's sight because of his son.

"Abraham' Branch." Peppy said, "Let it be pleasing to your sight, because Cho shall be blessed for birthing a son, a son that Ray gave to you. Whatever Ray says to you, always listen to his voice sometimes; for in "Isaac" Gladious your seed of music for the trolls shall be called in the gratefulness. Yet I will also make a nation of the gorilla son of the gorilla maid, because he is your seed for desire of music."

So "Abraham" Branch got up early in the morning after the great feast and then he came to Peppy. After that, both Peppy and Branch took their own bread and a skin of water; and then they were putting it on Ray's shoulder, then finally they grabbed a troll child (who is "Isaac" Gladius) and gave it to Cho. Then she departed and went to the forest of Dawn. And the water in the skin was used up on Cho's skin, and she placed herself under one of the shrubs. Then she went and sat down across from the child in the distance of about a bowshot.

"Let me not see the death of Branch's gorilla son, who is going to be the great leader of the gorillas after Kerchak." Cho said.

So she sat opposite him, and lifted her voice and wept. Then Peppy heard the voice of Cho, and Bridgette (one of Peppy's angels) called to Cho out of Peppy's village.

"What are you doing, Cho? Don't be afraid, for Peppy had heard your beautiful voice. Now rise up, lift the troll up and hold him with your big gigantic hands, for I will make him a great nation." Bridgette said proudly. Then Cho opened her eyes peacefully, and she saw a great well of water. Then she went and filled her big homemade bucket with water and gave Gladius a drink. So Peppy was with "Isaac" Gladius, which then later, he grew up and lived in the forest of Dawn, and then he finally became the new leader of the gorillas.

But before "Isaac" Gladius became the new leader, he dwelt in the forest, meeting new friends like trolls, and some new animals like a friendly serpent named Kaa, while he then visited Peppy for personal and helpful advice for the gorilla, which then would also later help Tarzan. And it came to pass at the time that Dolittle and Roxanne, the former rulers of those old ruined troll villages came with some good agreements.

"Peppy is with you in all that you're doing." Roxanne said, "Now therefore, swear to me by Peppy, that you will not deal falsely with me, with my offspring, or with my posterity; but that according to the kindness that you have done in the recent days that you did, you will help me in Peppy's village and you will help me dwell well there."

"I will swear then." Branch said.

Then “Abraham” Branch rebuked Dolittle because of a well of water which Dolittle’s servants had seized around the time when his village got ruined.

“I do not know who had done this thing; and you did not tell me, or I had heard of that grateful nonsense until now.” Dolittle said.

“Abraham” Branch then gave some unnecessary stuff (like some books that he did not like, and some vodka that was saved for Dolittle), then he gave it to Dolittle and the two of them finally made a covenant. “Abraham” Branch then helps Dolittle to make peace with his servants in the forest of Dawn.

“What is the point of making peace of the servants of mine?” Dolittle said in confusion.

“It is important for the covenant; making peace is the way to Peppy, to make gratefulness to Peppy himself.” Branch said happily.

Therefore Branch brought Dolittle and his old formal servants to Peppy’s village and then Peppy himself made a covenant to Dolittle and Branch, along with the servants. Then “Abraham” Branch planted a tamarisk tree in the front of the forest of Dawn, and there called on the name of Peppy, the everlasting Peppy. And Dolittle stayed in Peppy’s village forever, as they were very happy with staying in the happy village.

Meanwhile, Tarzan was seeing close to the camping site, while Jane was demonstrating the experience about what happened when Jane was rescued from an angry stampede of baboons.

“Professor!” Clayton said angrily, “You are supposed to find gorillas, not indulge in some girlish fantasy!”

“Fantasy?” Jane snapped, “Are you insane, Tarzan is-”

Before Jane finished her sentence, Tarzan came down to the camping site where they are, and they were in surprise. Porter was very happy to see the ape man that she was saying to them, but Clayton was shocked to see Tarzan.

“Everyone, stand back!” Clayton shouted.

He then grabbed his rifle and pointed it at Tarzan, most of them are horrified, and then DJ Suki, Cooper, and Jane stopped Clayton from shooting Tarzan. Jane then covered her ears after stopping Clayton from shooting the ape man (along with two of the Snack Pack trolls) in order to prevent deaf in her ears, because the gun noise was so loud.

Then Clayton, Porter, and Jane herself were surprised to see the two trolls, along with the ape man. Tarzan said Clayton's name, and he was surprised to hear his name by a wild man.

"How do you know my name?" Clayton said in confusion.

"Because the noise that you make and Tarzan recognized the noise." Jane said, "So he knows your name now."

Then Clayton tried to make Tarzan know where the gorillas are, but it never helped much to him.

"Go-ril-las!" Clayton said.

After he said that, Tarzan then started to repeat what Clayton had said.

"If I can train a bird to sing God Save the Queen, then I can make a savage know where the gorillas are." Clayton said.

DJ Suki, Cooper, Jane, and Porter wasn't very proud of what Clayton had said, because they thought that the word "savage" was a very insulting name for the ape man.

Then Clayton started to draw a picture of a gorilla on the chalkboard.

"Gorilla" Clayton said to Tarzan.

Then Tarzan repeated the same word as he grabbed and held on the chalk piece.

"Oh, ho! He's got it!" Porter said.

But Tarzan started to doodle messily on the chalkboard, while he repeated the word that Clayton said.

"No, no, no, no, no!" Clayton said, just as he grabbed the chalk piece away from Tarzan.

Tarzan then kept repeated the same word as they were both struggling for the chalk, and that is when Jane finally settled it.

"Well Clayton, we might figure it out ourselves." Jane said.

"Brilliant idea, Jane." Porter said, "This ape man might help us to see the gorillas sometime."

"Good idea, maybe you might be amazed when you are finally seeing the gorillas." DJ Suki said.

"Yeah, why Clayton does this foolish idea to the ape man." Cooper said, "You know that he must know about humans like you Jane. This might be the perfect solution and it is making me happy and goofy."

"Jane must do this." Tarzan said to Jane.

So then Tarzan was with Jane and the crew for a couple of weeks, but Peppy in the village is willing to give "Abraham" Branch some really good and very, very humorous advice in the next chapter.

CHAPTER XXIII

In which while Peppy and Branch had a comical conversation, they met the ingenious gentleman Don Quixote of La Mancha and his squire Sancho Panza, and other amusing events

Sometime later, after Peppy did great things for Kerchak and the others that gave him support, he wanted some good talk with his friend, Branch.

"Branch!" Peppy said, "I want to talk to you."

"Yes," Branch said, "Here I am your majesty."

"I want to know if you are able to take your son, which is "Isaac" Gladius, which you indeed love so much, because I would love to help with you to give him some good deeds, in case I find some strangers."

"I would love too," Branch replied, "But what strangers? You mean the ones that look like a fox and a cat, who lure boys either to the puppet master, Stromboli, or the coachman to Pleasure Island?"

"Yeah, those strangers." Peppy said, "That is because I saw them walking in the forest, talking about visiting us and as far as I concerned, having some delicious feast with us."

"Hmm, that sounds like a good idea." Branch said.

"But what if they do lure us," Peppy said, "I might as well eat dirt instead of talking to those buffoons."

But suddenly, they heard a strange noise up the hills. As they heard it, they started to walk up to the hills and they saw a figure doing something weird.

The figure looks like an old man, with armor around him, a sword and a lance, hitting a portrait of his impostor that wrote the fake Quixote. The other figure besides him was a little smaller than the huge figure. It also has a big belly and a large hat with him.

"Hey!" Peppy said, "Who are you?"

"Who is that?" Sancho said.

"It must be a creature that wants to fight with me!" Don Quixote replied,

"It might be an enchantment from Freston, that enchanter that stole the books of chivalry from my library. No wonder why he stole my books, turned windmills into monsters, and even turned men into herds of sheep! Where are you!?! Show yourself!"

Both Peppy and Branch came up to see both figures and greeted them.

"We are trolls, not an enchanted monster." Peppy said, "Why would you think that an enchanter named Freston would ever enchant us as monsters, even though we are not monsters. But let's forget that oddball question, what is your name?"

"I am Don Quixote of La Mancha, the Knight of the Sorrowful Face." Don Quixote said.

"I am Sancho Panza, the squire who will be governing my insula." Sancho said.

"Oh, I know you both." Branch said, "I have read you in the books of Don Quixote, written by a fictional Arab author. Why I said fictional? Because it was really written by Miguel de Cervantes, who wrote it in prison for the first part, and the second part was written and released a year after someone wrote a fake second part of your adventures."

"You mean an impostor?" Don Quixote replied, "That fool offended Cervantes for his crippled left hand and accused him of being old! He shall never exist in my life, thanks to the success of the first part of my adventures."

"That is why you are attacking a portrait of that traitor," Peppy said, "That is very interesting, because if someone wrote an unauthorized second part out of this book's adventures, the author who wrote this (who is Justine de Cervantes) would attack the impostor, just like your author attacked your impostor."

"Very interesting idea." Sancho replied, "This author who wrote this history shall indeed rival the imposter if anyone wrote an unauthorized sequel to this work. It was brave for Cervantes and Cide Hamete Benengeli for attacking his impostor because we found out about that sequel in our second part of our adventures."

"Agree, Sancho my friend," Don Quixote said, "It was for his own good, that impostor shall never write any sequel out of my adventures as long as I live."

So after that talk, Don Quixote and Sancho Panza joined Peppy's side and they went into his village, so that all of the trolls see the knight-errant and his squire. All of the trolls (including the Snack Pack) created a large home for both people, so that Don Quixote and Sancho Panza can live there.

Sometimes, some trolls visit them and greeted them very well, so it was so great for this stupendous welcome.

The day after he (and Peppy) met Don Quixote and his squire, Branch woke up early. He then took a walk with both the knight-errant and the squire, then gets "Isaac" Gladius. He then chopped some firewood for a good deed and later set out for the place Peppy had told him about.

On the third day of their journey, Don Quixote was getting very tired since it was the night after its sun disappeared.

"What are we supposed to do while you do this for the troll child?" Don Quixote said, "I must have an adventure with you, it would be great since our history is very famous."

"Sure, but don't get some dumb idea." Branch said, "I do not want to interrupt my troll child's deed."

Branch then placed the wood for the good deed on Isaac's shoulders, while he, Quixote, Sancho, and Gladius took a walk.

"Father?" Gladius said.

"Yeah, my son?" Branch said peacefully.

"We have some fire and wood," Gladius said, "But where is some sheep for the good deed?"

"Peppy is hiring some shepherds will provide a lot of sheep for the good deed, Gladius." Branch said.

Then herds of sheep started rushing towards Branch, Gladius (his son), Quixote, and Sancho. They were astounded, while Quixote had something in mind.

"This is it, Sancho." Don Quixote said, "There is an army of men coming to kill us."

"Uh, Quixote, my grace," Sancho said, "Those are not army of men, but herds of sheep."

"Ah-ha!" Don Quixote exclaimed, "But these are not just sheep, they are men that are turned into sheep, so this is it, I must attack the men in disguise."

Then Don Quixote started running towards to the herd of sheep while Sancho shouted:

"What are you doing, Quixote! These are not men, they are sheep, you quixotic fool!"

But this did not stop Quixote at all. Don Quixote then started attacking them with his sword and lance, trying to decapitate every sheep imaginable. When the shepherds saw what Quixote was doing, they started throwing rocks against the ingenious gentleman.

"Ah! Stop you fools!" Don Quixote yelled, "I am trying to kill every evil man to right this wrong for justice! You cowards, stop!"

Then one of the rocks smashes Quixote's ribs inside, making him lean with pain. But he grabbed his potion and started drinking it a couple of seconds after, since he made the healing potion to make him feel much better. But before he finished it, another rock smashed his teeth, the potion, and his fingers horribly.

Sancho, Branch, and Gladius were standing in front of Quixote and a herd of sheep, watching in shock. That is when Sancho came to Quixote after he was knocked out.

"I can't believe it!" Sancho said, "I told you that they are not men, they are sheep that you were fighting. Gosh! No wonder why you lost your mind completely."

"Stop shouting, you peasant," Don Quixote said, "Can you check my teeth, I think some are knocked out of my mouth thanks to those stupid men that were throwing hard almonds right at me."

Sancho then started examining Quixote's mouth, but while he was checking, the potion was going into effect, and in an instant, Quixote then vomited onto Sancho's face, as if he was shooting a musket at an animal.

"Mother of Peppy!" Sancho shouted, "My master has been sinfully wounded, he is now vomiting blood again! Oh my king, Peppy, can you forgive him for this wrathful sin?"

Then his squire checked the vomit with the taste, smell, and color, and he realized it was not blood at all, but the potion that Quixote dunked. So for about a couple of seconds, he then threw up at Quixote's face very violently until his insides were empty.

At that moment, Bridgette, Peppy's angel said:

"Branch! Are you here with Don Quixote, Sancho Panza, and Gladius?"

"Yeah." Branch said, "I am here, seeing Quixote and Sancho vomiting. Peppy has to be here to forgive the knight-errant for that sin."

"Don't worry about that. But also, don't touch or lay a hand on Gladius yet." Bridgette said, "Don't give him away to the fox and the cat in any way, because I know that Peppy had pranked you very much. You have not withheld from me yet especially your son, your only and great son."

Then Branch saw a rare ram that was smashing into Quixote ferociously, which gave Branch an idea. Branch then sold the ram instead of his troll son to the fox and the cat (which their actual names are Honest John and Gideon) for Pleasure Island, the island where boys turn into donkeys for doing bad things.

That is where Branch called the place Quixotweh Yireh (which actually means "Don Quixote and Peppy will provide you adventures while righting the wrongs for justice"). To this gloriously funny day and adventure, people will use that name as a hilarious proverb: "On the mount of Don Quixote and Peppy, it will be provided for next great adventures while righting out wrongs for justice".

"This is what Peppy needed to say to you: Because you have indeed obeyed the ruler of trolls, and did not sell the boy, your only great son, I will always swear by my own name that I will certainly give the knight-errant, the squire, and your son an immortal blessing, just like I did for you. I will multiply the adventures beyond numbers, just like the beautiful stars in the night sky and the dusty sand on the seashores. Your descendants and adventures will conquer the histories of the books that you will read and the enemies that would take on to your glory fame. And through your adventures, all the great places in my world will be blessed – all because you have trusted and obeyed me." Bridgette said.

Don Quixote, Sancho, Branch, and Gladious were so proud about that stupendous adventure, and in reward, they returned to the village, where Branch will make more adventure with those in needs.

Soon after this event, Branch heard that Cervantes, his brother Kendrick's wife, had bore Kendrick eight sons. The oldest of them all is Kevin, the next oldest of them was Buzz, followed by Samuel T. Jackson (the ancestor of the Vegas), Timberlake, Shelton, Jamie, Dashious, and Vega. (Vega became the father and innkeeper of Samba).

In addition to these hilarious sons from Cervantes, Kendrick had four other children from his innkeeper P.F. Collier. Their names were Tea-bah, Gah-bam, Ta-thash, and Mah-cah.

CHAPTER XXIV

In which Tarzan wanted Jane to stay in the jungle, while the crew was packing up in order to get back to England, then he lured Kerchak out of the jungle by disguising Terk and Tantor as Jane and Porter, then he fights with Kerchak, and the other unexpected event that prevails almost at the end of this chapter

5 weeks later, Tarzan was getting a lot better, thanks to Jane's teachings for his English (which Tarzan did indeed show her the Jungle for other animals), which in term, it made the Snack Pack, Branch, and Peppy so proud that they help Jane most of the time. But every day, he wanted to fall in love with her, so much so that one day, he grabbed some flowers for her affection. But for Terk, it wasn't the same without being with Tarzan, sometimes he would play with him and Tantor during nighttime, but most of the time, he would see Jane, because he was really in love.

"He is very generous." Tantor said.

"Yeah, right in the kisser." Terk said, "He doesn't always talk to me, like I was his old forgotten friend, except playing with you Tantor and especially i. He must be in love with someone, and if he is, why can't we see her? It must be because he is way more free then Kerchak can ever be."

Tarzan was swinging in the vines to see Jane at the camping site, but he notices something different. There he saw, were men carrying stuff to the huge boat on the water, and he also saw Porter, Clayton, and Jane, who were planning to leave to England, their hometown. The Snack Pack, who then swunged their hair and came behind Tarzan, wanted to know what was going on.

"What's wrong, Tarzan. What is going on there?" DJ Suki said.

"There are some men getting a lot of stuff to leave, but why?" Tarzan said, "I was with Jane for 5 weeks, and I want her to stay with me, especially with her father. I love her, and I do not want to let her go."

He then let the Snack Pack to go in his homemade backpack, and Tarzan then swings down to the camping site.

"Wait! We can't go to England now!" Porter said, "We have not seen any gorillas yet!"

"This is your bloody fault, Jane!" Clayton snarled, "We would've already had set all those traps for every beast, if it wasn't for the savage Tarzan!"

"I would have seen them too, fool!" Jane said angrily, "But I love Tarzan more than you ever think. You are so--"

Tarzan then came down to see Jane, making her cut the conversation to Clayton.

"Oh, my Tarzan." Jane said, "Can't you believe this? We are going back to England, but we did not see the gorillas at all. What are we going to do without you, Tarzan?"

"Jane stays with Tarzan." Tarzan said.

"Stay?" Jane replied.

That is when Jane's suitcase fell and all of her clothes lands on the ground.

"Tarzan, I can't stay." Jane said sadly, "I have a life, and my father--"

"Stay." Tarzan said.

That is when he showed Jane the flowers that he picked for her affection. Jane then looked at the flowers that Tarzan showed for a second, before she ran out crying in her tragic look.

"Oh Tarzan," Clayton said, "If we can't see any of those gorilla beasts yet, we have to go back to England without any great news. What are you going to do when were gone?"

"Then, I must show you all the gorillas." Tarzan said.

"Excellent!" Clayton said, "That's a really good decision, boy. Everyone! We are going to see the gorillas!"

But before they see the gorillas in the Jungle of Dawn, Tarzan must lure Kerchak out. But how will he do that? Well, he eventually tried to ask Terk and Tantor to do some disguises.

"Can you do something for me, please?" Tarzan said.

"WHAT! Forget it!" Terk shouted.

Then they started to walk to a different direction as Terk continued talking.

"Can you believe that guy?" Terk said angrily, "He want to do something for us while we were his old forgotten friends--"

"Please? I am your friend after all." Tarzan said.

"Eahh... Ahhh... with your face and your eyes and- EEAUGH! Alright! But don't make me do anything embarrassing!" Terk said.

That is what he did; Tarzan disguised them both as Jane and her father/professor, Porter. That is when Terk blew his rage in a matter of seconds.

"I'M GONNA KILL HIM!!!" Terk yelled.

"This looks very good, in fact, it fits very fine." Tantor said.

"Oh really?" Terk said, "Well, thank you--"

The ferocious roar then cut out her sentence, and that is where Terk and Tantor cowardly ran for their lives, because Kerchak ran out of the trees, seeing both of them look like Jane and Porter. This angered Kerchak, and the huge gorilla started chasing them.

When Tarzan brings the crew, including Clayton, Porter, and Jane, they saw a female gorilla (which was Tarzan's gorilla mother). Tarzan talked to his gorilla mother with their language, but Kala stepped back a little.

"Oh, she's getting away!" Clayton said.

"No, you're scaring her!" Jane replied.

Jane then joined too with Tarzan and attempted to talk in that same language as Tarzan and the gorilla started coming toward one step at a time. Then something astounding happened.

"What are you doing? Get down! Get... don't get down..." Clayton said.

That is where the gorillas appeared around the crew, and Jane was amazed to see every gorilla around her, and it was surprising, especially the fact that they have not seen any gorilla for days, it was incredible for them.

"Oh, hi sir," Porter said.

One of the gorillas then grab hold of Porter's leg, just as a bunch of stuff fell out of his pocket.

"Oh, ho!" Porter said happily, "Nice to meet you."

Then the same gorilla, along with other gorillas were starting to examine Porter's hair for any head lice or any insects in the hair.

"Oh my," Porter said, "They are grooming!"

Clayton, smiling sinisterly, finally found the perfect spot for stealing the gorillas, as he looked in his map.

"This is very perfect!" Clayton said quietly, "For stealing..."

The other gorilla then steals Clayton's gun and pointed it to his eye, while Clayton started to struggle to grab his gun.

"No! No!" Clayton shouted, "That is not to be played with, you buffoon!"

But for Jane, she was bringing peace with the baby gorillas, which most had fun climbing on her back. Tarzan was also having some fun along with her in that beautiful moment.

"What did the baby gorilla said?" Jane questioned.

"It said Jane indeed stay with me." Tarzan replied.

"But... I had that talk before." Jane said, "I don't know what to say, but-"

Before she started talking with Tarzan, they heard cries of help from Terk and Tantor, who apparently broke in, trembled, and fell onto the ground, with the clothes that belonged to Jane.

"Is that my clothes?" Jane said.

"Oh, no." Tarzan said quietly.

Then, as they thought it was over and came back to its usual silence, Kerchak was the one who broke the silence in half with its monstrous roar as the gorilla smashes through trees, but stopped when he saw Tarzan and the crew. Tarzan tried to talk this over, but Clayton, struggling to grab the gun from one of the gorillas, was the one who brought anger to Kerchak again.

"GIVE ME THAT!!!" Clayton shouted.

Clayton then pointed the gun to the gorilla, which was responsible for stealing his gun. That is when Kerchak ferociously charged towards Clayton, by running towards him.

"No!" Tarzan shouted.

Tarzan then stopped Kerchak from attacking Clayton by smashing into him, then he pins the huge gorilla to the ground while holding him by Kerchak's neck.

"GO!!!" Tarzan yelled.

The crew started to run, but Jane couldn't leave Tarzan.

"Tarzan, wait!" Jane said, "Please!"

"GO NOW!!!" Tarzan yelled even louder.

"Quickly, Jane! Quickly!" Porter said quickly.

They then left, just as Tarzan was holding tight of Kerchak's neck, but he then see Kala, scared, and that is when he stopped and let go of the gorilla's neck. The other gorillas, who cheered Tarzan before, were stepping back, because of what Tarzan was trying to do to Kerchak, and Kala was starting to feel sad because of what he was also trying to do.

"Kerchak," Tarzan said in shock, "I... I didn't mean to-"

"I asked you," Kerchak said, "To protect this family! But you... you betrayed us all, you fool!"

The words, said by Kerchak, made Tarzan feel scared of his dark shadow, and then, in a flash, started to run away. Kala must make Tarzan feel better, and that is to tell him a story.

When an old troll named Sophia, was 127 years old, she died at her house at Peppy's village. There in remembrance, they (including Peppy, the Snack Pack, and Branch himself) mourned at her death in a funeral and wept for the old troll lady.

"Here I am," Branch said, "A great friend to Peppy, and a helper for those in need, please sell me a huge chunk of land so I can give this peaceful old troll female a great proper burial."

"Listen, Peppy," Don Quixote said, "You are an honored king and creator of trolls among us. Choose the finest of our big tombs and bury her there. No one here will refuse to help you at all in this way. After all, Branch helped us and others from the flood you've created. And by the way, who is that ape man?"

"It's Tarzan," Peppy replied, "I heard some news from Junior that Tarzan fought against Kerchak because he was just trying to protect Jane, his lover, and the crew from being attacked and killed. I found it heroic, but I feel bad for him right now, all thanks to Kerchak."

"Nice talk, Peppy. It's been great. I will be here as long as I live." Don Quixote said.

"Since that you are willingly helping me in this way, always be so kind as to ask Sancho, squire of Don Quixote of La Mancha, to let me buy his big cave at Poppyium, down next to the philosopher's stone." Branch said, "I will pay the full price in the presence of witnesses, so I will have a permanent burial place for this beautiful female troll, for her sweetness and great berries to eat with her."

Sancho was sitting there among the others, and he answered to Branch as the others listened, speaking publicly alongside Don Quixote of La Mancha.

"No, Branch," Sancho said, "Please listen to me, squire of Don Quixote, I will give you the field and cave for the burial. Here in my presence of my master, I will give it to you. Go and bury the dead elder troll."

Then Branch bowed low to most people as he heard Sancho talking to him.

"No, just listen to me," Branch replied, "I will buy it from you, Let me pay a good price for the field so I can bury my old friend there."

"Branch," Sancho said, "Just listen, this land is worth 400 sickles of silver, but what is that between friends like me? Go ahead for me and bury her."

That is where Branch finally agreed to Sancho Panza's price and gave the amount for the land – which was indeed 400 sickles of silver, according to the American La Mancha archives and the stock market at that same troll city as where the Ministry is.

Branch then bought the plot of land that belonged to Sancho Panza (who also buried his dead wife, who died of old age or some weird disease) next to his house, near Peppy's village. It included the field itself, the cave that was in it, and all the great surrounding trees. That was transferred to Branch as his permanent possession next to Don Quixote's house after Sancho's.

That is where Branch finally buried Sophia in the same location as I mentioned already. So the field and cave was transferred from Sancho's possession to Branch for use as a permanent burial place.

CHAPTER XXV

In which Kala tells the story of The Red Riding Dude to Tarzan, who was deceived by Kerchak

After what happened with Tarzan, when he defended his love and the crew against Kerchak, Kala started to look for the ape man. She eventually found Tarzan, who was sitting on a huge tree branch and looking at the beautiful sunset, feeling sad about Jane leaving him so that she goes back to England.

"Tarzan?" Kala said, "How are you feeling? I know how you feel, but I will still be with you, even if you love her so much."

Tarzan felt an emotion that he had never felt before, and as he heard that, tears were starting to stream out of his eyes like waterfalls.

"I never felt so sad in my life." Tarzan said sadly, "I love her so much, and I just wanted her to be happy. This is Kerchak's fault! He is the one who ruined this perfect moment with me and Jane! I wished he wasn't my father!"

"I know," Kala said, "The reason why I came here is because I wanted to make you feel better, so I want to tell you this story for you, and you'll probably be entertained by this, so here it goes..."

THE RED RIDING DUDE
BY JUSTINE DE CERVANTES

One morning, a dude named Leo T. Brown dressed himself in red clothes, and grabbed some food that his mother (or should I say grandma) would adore a lot.

As he went outside of his house, he hopped onto his motorcycle and started driving to the directions that he knew. Oh yeah, did you know he knows every direction? Well, apparently he did since he had that precious motorcycle, and he knew every direction in the back of his head.

"Wait, wait, wait!" Tarzan said, "So he knew every direction all this time? That is like if Dan Brown knew everything in his formula for every single Robert Langdon story he makes!"

"Yeah, precisely," Kala said, "But let's keep going with the story."

While he was driving, the hero of this story, Don Quixote of La Mancha, spotted a wolf that started following Leo through enchantments. It startled him so much that he saw this as a adventure to save Leo from the big, bad wolf.

Quixote then put on his armor, grabbed his lance, sword, and shield, and mounted Rocinante to initiate his adventure of a lifetime.

"Oh my!" The wolf said, "Some dumb knight-errant is coming to get me, huh? I got tricks up my sleeve!"

That is where the wolf disguised himself as a police officer (or one of the officers of the Holy Brotherhood of Toledo to be precise), and halted Don Quixote.

"Why are you chasing, fool!" The wolf said.

"I wasn't chasing Leo; I was chasing that cursed wolf that is planning to eat him. So get out of my damn way!" Don Quixote said.

The knight-errant then punches the disguised wolf in the face, and continued his adventure. The wolf then changed disguises, this time as a galley slave from Spain.

"I will steal your stupid horse for money, because I am a gypsy!" The wolf said.

"Oh no you aren't!" Don Quixote said angrily, "It is my stupid horse, but I love that stupid horse! Are you that wolf who disguised as a police officer before?"

"Oops!" The wolf yelped.

"Ah-ha!!" Don Quixote exclaimed, "You devil wolf, I will grab you and choke you badly!"

Don Quixote then proceeds to grab the wolf's throat and chokes it very hard. But before the wolf even dies, it vanishes into black smoke and it flew in the speed of light, eventually hitting grandma's house.

The black smoke eventually turned back into the wolf himself and that is where he sneaks in quietly. But the loud voice of Grandma came into view.

"Who is this freak you have here!" Grandma said, "I do not want you in here, stranger! Go choke on acorns, wretched fool!"

"Get out of my way or else I will eat you like delicious chicken!" The wolf shouted.

"I shall not!" Grandma said, "It is my freedom, I will never move, never, and if those medical people on television come to get me, I'll never move at all!"

"THAT'S IT!!!" The wolf yelled, "YOU ARE GOING TO PAY THE PRICE, OLD NAG!!!"

Then the wolf grabbed her out the bed, undressed forcedly, and finally ate her from head to toe in one bite. Then he dressed himself with the same clothes that Grandma originally wore, and put himself in bed, awaiting to eat Leo. That is when Leo opened the door to see his Grandma.

"Hello Grandma, I got you some scrumptious food to eat." Leo said.

"Oh, thank you sweetie. Put them down on the floor." The wolf said in a raspy voice.

"What the-! What happen to you Grandma?" Leo said, "You have huge teeth the size of kitchen knives, big eyes and huge nose, and ears. Who the heck are you anyways?"

That is where the wolf tore Grandma's clothes and roared at him.

"I AM THE WOLF!!!" The wolf said, "I AM GOING TO EAT YOU FOR REAL!!!"

“Hah!” Leo said, “I knew this day would come! You don’t scare me real good!”

That’s where the wolf finally snapped. The wolf grabbed Leo and ate him just like what he did with Grandma, than he eats all the food that Leo gave to this supposed Grandma, who became this wolf. This looks like the job for...

“DON QUIXOTE OF LA MANCHA!!!” Don Quixote shouted, “I SHALL END THE EVIL WOLF’S LIFE FOREVER, AND I SHALL FREE LEO AND HIS GRANDMA OUT OF THE WOLF’S STOMACH FOR GOOD!”

Then Don Quixote broke down the door like Hulk, holding a chainsaw, then tore the wolf’s stomach open, setting Leo and his grandma free from the dreadful trap.

Then Quixote, Leo, and Grandma filled every bit of the wolf’s stomach with tons of stones, and then they sewed the stomach back together.

An hour later, the wolf became terribly thirsty, so what happened to him is that he attempted to drink from the well, but horribly fell in and drowned himself, just as he tried to drink.

In conclusion, they enjoyed a better day than being in the wolf’s stomach and Don Quixote did indeed right a wrong for real. All was well.

CHAPTER XXVI

In which the story of The Red Riding Dude concludes, Tarzan dresses up in his dead parents' clothes, then gets kidnapped by barbarous men in this spectacular adventure ever written

After Kala finished the story of The Red Riding Dude, Tarzan was very entertained, but he still feels bad for most of the gorillas and especially Jane, his love.

"What should I do about it?" Tarzan said, "I can't just leave you, and I love Jane as much as I love you as well. I got to do something about it!"

Then Kala followed Tarzan to his dead parents' treehouse and walked on the wooden floors.

What they saw was a huge ruckus for them. There was blood on the floors, and bodies (which there now skeletons) of his dead parents. There was also feathers that blew in the distance, but there was also a portrait of his parents, including himself, as a baby.

"I got to dress up, and you got to go with me and Kerchak." Tarzan said.

"Are you sure?" Kala said, "I hope they take us to England as well. I wonder if they are so kind."

"I got to find out about that." Tarzan replied.

Tarzan then grabbed his dead parents' clothes in the corner of the treehouse and dressed up in a black suit with a bowtie. He now looked like Tommy Wiseau.

"How do I look, mother?" Tarzan said.

"You look perfect," Kala answered, "I think they would be proud with the way you look."

The next morning, Tarzan brought Kala and Kerchak to a lifeboat, along with Jane and Porter, as they sail to their boat. But Terk and Tantor, wanting to say goodbye, tried to run as fast as they could, but they never made it.

"COME BACK TARZAN!!!" Tantor shouted loudly.

"He is gone!" Terk said, "I CAN'T BELIEVE IT!!! If it wasn't for those phony disguises, I would have kicked his butt, while being on a stupid donkey!"

"We didn't even get to say goodbye..." Tantor said sadly.

"Yeah, well, good riddance!" Terk said angrily, "WHO NEEDS YA? HUH? GO ON, YOU STUPID BUFFOON! GET OUT OF HERE, BALD FOOL! YOU STUPID INGRATE! BALD INGRATE! GO ON AND ROT THERE, FOR ALL I CARE, GO!!!"

That is where Terk sat with Tantor and did not even do anything about it.

"What are you lookin' at?" Terk said.

"I am going to miss him." Tantor said.

That is where Tantor, abandoning all hope for the ape man (whom he called him as a bald fool, stupid buffoon, stupid, and bald ingrate), then kicked Tantor's leg and went back into the Jungle of Dawn, making Tantor sigh sadly after that.

Meanwhile, Tarzan and the others (including the two gorillas, which is his adopted parents that he brought on), were on two separate lifeboats. Why? Because the two gorillas would not sustain any weight on one lifeboat, which would cause it to sink into the sea without warning. So they used two for a good reason, which included Tarzan on the second one.

"Are you sure that is a good idea?" Kerchak said.

"I hope so," Tarzan replied, "Because if they are mean gentlemen instead of those reasonable good men, then I would take the blame for myself. After all, they are going to England and I do not want to leave them, especially my love as well."

"Hopefully too." Kala said, "I want my son to be as grateful to most people, even his own love. Look's like I will be missing my usual jungle activities now."

Jane, Porter, and the lifeboat crewmember were on the first lifeboat, just as Tarzan and his gorilla parents were with his own crewmember on the second lifeboat.

"This will be wonderful," Jane said, "Two gorillas, and they are Tarzan's adopted parents. I know that Kerchak almost endangered me a lot back there."

"You can say that again." Porter said, "That will be indeed delightful to my eyes. It will be the best day for Tarzan, as far as I know."

That is when they reached the boat's ladder on the side, so that they can climb on.

All except for the gorillas. So, to fix that problem, they used a very tight rope so that both gorillas will get on the boat safe and sound.

"You'll love it there!" Porter said, "You'll see everyone in England, such as J.K. Rowling, James Corden, Daniel Radcliffe, Emma Watson, Rupert Grint, and even the queen herself, even some American celebrities come in England once and a while. You can also read classics from great authors like Henry Fielding, Miguel de Cervantes, S.E. Hinton, J.K. Rowling (as I've already said), Dan Brown, David Foster Wallace, and many other authors that you have never seen in your life."

"It is definitely true, Tarzan." Jane said happily, "You will enjoy England, just as much as your jungle."

"That will be true," Tarzan said, "As long as you stay with me."

"Yes," Jane replied, "You'll be with me as long as you like, especially with my father."

That is when Jane and Porter started climbing up to the boat. Then, before Tarzan climbs on that ladder, he looks back at his own home, looking sad with the thought of missing it very much. And so, without hesitation, he started climbing on the ladder and right on the boat. But as he started climbing, he started to feel strange.

Both were in a strange pattern, first it was his mouth, then his ears. As that strange pattern started for Tarzan, he started vomiting first at the sea and stopped after that. But as he stopped, he started hearing noises like if someone was struggling up there. So he started climbing faster and when he got to the top, he suddenly knew something was wrong.

Men, who did not look like gentlemen, were starting coming towards Tarzan slowly, his gorilla parents were being dragged and strangled by a huge man that can grab huge animals at their neck, and Jane (as Tarzan saw), was being grabbed by a muscular man. Jane quickly bit the man's hand, but let go at the last minute before she started crying out.

"TARZAN!!" Jane yelled.

Then at the last minute, Tarzan started jumping up high as the men were running faster, then he grabs the wooden pole and climbs up. As he saw at the bird's eye view, men were putting Jane somewhere, along with her father, his gorilla parents, and the lifeboat crewmembers.

Suddenly, someone grabbed Tarzan's leg instantly as our ape-man saw what was going on down there. Tarzan then looked down and he saw that one of the bad men was grabbing his leg tightly and forcefully before kicking the guy in the face as he started to go further. Then Tarzan jumped into the top of the boat.

But as he got to the top, he did not make it entirely. He was hanging on the edge with his hands, and he was not going to let go of it. Each of his fingers then started slipping off before he fell and smashed into a couple of crates.

He was unconscious before getting up. And as he was getting up, some men grabbed him and pinned him to the wall with their big bodies, which was very hard for Tarzan, since he was struggling to be free from those evil men. Then a gun noise roared out of the barrel, and someone shouted.

"WHAT'S GOING ON HERE?" Clayton shouted.

"Clayton!" Tarzan said instantly.

"Hmm... have we met?" Clayton responded.

That made the blood drain from Tarzan's face, while being in shock. Of course he met Clayton before, while they were in the camping site.

"Ah yes, the ape man!" Clayton said surprisingly.

This angered Tarzan the instant he said that next line. Tarzan then said:

"Clayton... you... YOU--"

But before he even finished that sentence, Clayton smacked him in the stomach with his shotgun. The impact of that was so hard, that it made Tarzan's sickness with the sea even worse than ever.

"I'm sorry about that, boy." Clayton said. "But I must explain you this, I am stealing every single gorilla with my army of helicopters."

"Why?" Tarzan said angrily.

"Why?" Clayton responded, "Because I would make a great deal with animal skinning."

That is when Clayton started laughing madly, so much so, that it angered Tarzan a lot more. Then he yelled very loud that it reached back at the Jungle of Dawn. Tantor was the first to hear Tarzan's yell.

"That's Tarzan," Tantor said, "I think he is in danger. We must save him!"

"Why do I need him, being with his own kind," Terk said sadly, "I don't care."

"That's it!" Tantor said angrily, "I'VE HAD IT WITH YOU AND YOUR EMOTIONAL CONSTIPATION!!! TARZAN NEEDS US, AND WERE GONNA HELP! YOU GOT THAT? NOW HOLD ON, AND STICK WITH ME!!! We're going to catch the boat..."

That happened next instantly. Both Terk and Tantor then started running towards the boat while the elephant was doing a battle tune with his trunk.

"Whoa! Whoa! WHOA!!!" Terk shouted.

Then they realize that they were off a cliff. Then they fell into the water after that.

"I've never felt so alive!" Tantor said happily.

"GOOD!" Terk shouted, "Because I'm gonna' kill ya'!"

"Not now sissy!" Tantor said.

Both Terk and Tantor then dived into the water as a submarine for a rescue mission.

CHAPTER XXVII

In which Branch and Phil discovered greasers in the city of Hogdwellium, which one of them are called "Ponyboy", and other delightful events worth reading

At night, Branch was at the throne with Peppy, taking care of princess Poppy, which was alongside them both.

"Did you hear the news that Tarzan was kidnapped by some barbarous men at the boat today?" Peppy said.

"Yeah, it was horrible." Branch replied, "Will he ever be free from that dreadful prison?"

"Yes." Peppy said, "Terk and Tantor is on a rescue mission, so that means that they will save Tarzan, the other humans, and the ape man's parents."

That was a great relief for Branch, since he was at an advancing age, but still looked good at the time, and Peppy did indeed give peace and a blessing in every way.

On that same night, Branch came with Phil, his friend, to Hogdwellium.

"Can you take an oath by putting your hand under my thigh?" Branch said, "Swear by Peppy, the creator of trolls and the village itself, that you allow my son to marry a beautiful female troll in Hogdwellium, so that he will someday reunite with my relative, Don Quixote, and enjoy an amazing adventure for my son, Gladius."

"But what if I can't find any beauties in Hogdwellium that is willing to marry your funny troll son Gladius?" Phil said curiously, "Should I take him to live with your second relative, Sancho Panza, in the same village where Don Quixote is?"

"Not really." Branch said, "Because Sancho Panza is his squire, who wants to govern an insula, while Don Quixote is a madman who thinks that fantasy is all in his eyes instead of seeing of what reality is, even though he is idealistic at best. Peppy would love to solemnly promise to himself that he should give this town for descendents and other people like Don Quixote himself and Sancho Panza. He will indeed send you an angel for you and he will see that you will find a wife there for my troll child. If she is unwilling to come back with you, my friend, then you are free from this oath of mine. But with no circumstances, you would take my son to a beautiful female troll that is worthy."

"But wasn't Hogdwellium created by a troll named Harkinian?" Phil questioned.

"Not really," Branch answered, "He did not create this town, it was someone else. But that creator will give this town to Peppy, so that it will be used as home to Don Quixote and my son as well."

Suddenly, they heard some rustling leaves in the distance. Then they looked at the side, and that is where they saw a human. But it was not just a human, it was a greaser (a dude with long greasy hair), and it was going into a house.

Both Branch and Phil ran quick to the house the greaser was going into, and as it was going in, they heard loud noises.

"WHERE THE HECK HAD YOU BEEN? ITS 7 O'CLOCK TONIGHT KIDDO, AND IF YOU HAVE BEEN SOMEWHERE IN ANOTHER HOUR, I WOULD HAD CALLED SOME KIND OF POLICE AFTER YOU! WHERE

IN THE ALMIGHTY UNIVERSE HAVE YOU BEEN?!? AND YOU DO NOT HAVE A COAT ON EITHER! HAVE YOU LOST YOUR MIND TONIGHT, PONYBOY?"

That is when a name was heard, Ponyboy.

"COME ON, DARRY! SHUT UP, I'VE HAD IT WITH YOU STICKING UP TO HIM! YOU DON'T YELL AT HIM!"

Then knocks were heard from the door, and before they start a fight, they went at the door and opened it. Two figures were standing at the door, looking curious at them.

"Hi," Branch said, "So you guys are the greasers, huh?"

"Yeah," Darry said, "I was just taking with Ponyboy and Sodapop, my brothers."

"No you weren't," Ponyboy replied, "You were arguing with me because I came back late."

"SHUT UP!" Darry shouted, "I SWEAR TO GOD THAT IF YOU INSULT ME OR TALK BACK ABOUT THIS ARGUMENT, I WILL SLAP OR SMACK YOU SO HARD THAT NOT ONLY YOU'LL HIT THE DOOR THE INSTANT THAT I HIT YOU, BUT IT WILL ALSO MAKE YOUR HEAD SPIN LIKE A SPINNING CHAIR!!!"

Then Peppy appeared behind them, making all of them startled, except Branch and Phil.

"Excuse me!" Peppy said, "First of all, the way you say that, Darry, is inexcusable. The second, I am not God; I am Peppy, the creator of trolls and everything in this world. And the third, smacking or slapping people who are innocent like Ponyboy here is terrible. You should not threaten someone to attack your brother, Darry."

"So..." Darry said quietly, "So you do not want me to threat Ponyboy? How can I when I work hard every day at Hogdwellium, Ponyboy goes to a movie theater to watch a movie with either Anna Kendrick, or even Paul Newman without anyone beside himself, and Sodapop has all the fun being handsome to people and trolls in Hogdwellium, especially Johnny, who I know is somewhere in this town. What should I do?"

“Well,” Peppy responded, “If you treat these boys well, then you all deserve to be immortal along with us all.”

“Hmm,” Sodapop said, “That is a brilliant idea. I would love to be eternally handsome to everyone in my whole life.”

END OF THIS PREVIEW

THE REST OF THIS BOOK IS STILL IN DEVELOPMENT...